Re: THE IRISH TOPIC

Well at least you can have a good laugh about it , distance yourself from all sort of brainwash and propaganda, as most out there is propaganda nowadays, you know the authorized information...

So Terry had his first " shilling" 774 congratulations Terry, you finally made it

So someone " popped his cherry" ah love those strange slang terms so inadequate and indirect so they change our language too, this political correct language is being forced on the masses so soon they cant say anything even if they are aware of something, they just dont have the proper language to address the topic rationally

What did Orwell call this nonsense, Double Speak, Thought Crime, all these things.

Cognitive dissonance , also a fine one.

sloppy Photoshopping by the way by the look of things it s probably a girl doing that a guy would never come up with such ridiculous crap too silly, childish

although....

but it s a good portion of sartire at least you are getting some notice there that s good can u imagine what it would be like if no one would knock your cherry terrible !!

remember J , laughing is healthy

Love this one, brings back childhood memories

Oh I ve had my shill cherry broken years ago as the authorized " orgonite controlled leaders" calls us all sorts of bad names but I ll leave it at that point, any further communication about such issues is a waste anyway.. hocus pocus

This method with portland mixtures, well, yes, but would be more valid if more folk would do genuine trials, etc

to get a bigger picture

It does work but it is much milder, gentle than what we use also if you have so much stuff pumping already it is not easy to figure out what s what in the energy soup one cute aspect is the strength you need a drill to knock this tetra down it s even much stronger in that sense than the plastic metal it is purely " energystone" as the old peoples called it but it misses some characteristics we find in the selenite just my two cents....

I always wondered about that, the low prices of companies like Ryan air and the like... but now we know why, yes there must be a con, but in those days I couldnt figure it out as I was still under the spell of the system yes I even watched TV, we all walked on the dark sideone itme but my gut feeling said there is something smelly but could not put two and two together flying to Rome for eight bucks that sort of thing why they want so many planes in the air ah now we know to " protect us" sure how dare I forget how dare I question the programming by my " betters" just had to put the dog outside into the garden and this glider was coming over a normal cesna type plane but with a prop engine that is so silent it hardly makes any sound so you dont hear it coming just looked up and there it was, very very low, twenty meters, at most sliding over very slight noise and you think WTF thing turned around, did a circle and left never had that one before or maybe I had but didnt spot it properly put the portland pieces in the garden they fit well there as they are a bit ugly and that means something LOL they have more need to be on the ground nice camouflage color too hehee truths s really simple,one thing, it will never come from the top just wont happen so if you expect others to do your bidding good luck to you wont happen

that s the trick of the thing making us all submerge, integrate in groups that are supposedly acting on our behalve wont happen
that IS the trick follow follow follow never really doing or progressing in anything ,just follow the leader and expect them to succeed
never happened can and will never happen the same thing happens with the carbon con as has happened with the aerosol operation they just push it down on us , regardless of anything taking the piss out of us always they just dont give a shit and have the control, the money, 90% of the zombie population who could not care less what s going on behind them to enforce the agenda on those who are still independent operational , non brainwashed part of the population five per cent, at most maybe less money gets a lot of folk on board these paid off scientist going along with the agenda as long as it pays they dont care there is a lot of money, fame, glory , funding, grants involved if you go along if you dont go along and say the obvious it s all a scam and you are done for, out, ignored by mainstream propaganda

I wouldnt say just satanic Ireland, I d say satanic owned planet maybe a thought for the next banner haha but I love seeing them this ah finally someone opens his or her mouth properly because, between you and me, if I hear the term " Solar Radiation Management" one more time I gotta puke all over this spraying hoopla has been blasted upon us for ten years, at least the last years more intense and soon maybe even worse than that there s reality for you simple down to earth grandma approved reality there s a hole in your sock son it s not a solar radiation management operation, no, there is a hole in your sock young man it s not a stratospheric climate method, there is a fucking hole in your sock and you have to take care of your appearance the point is we are being drowned in political correct speech now the way we put things across to the public we have to use their speech their inappropriate speech as it does not cover the topic effectively it sort of dances around the subject this dodging they are good at when you ask them a straightforward question bombarding you with hoopla and jadja always avoiding a straight answer top psychopaths at the IPCC and other clubs taking you on a loop into lala land 407894_10150539525204464_1861590126_n.jpg (54.49 KiB) Viewed 165 times so there is a lot of diversion taking place, a lot of damage control to move us further and further from the elephant in the room aka the hole in the sock fix that hole sonny

sometimes I miss that that bite that bluntness in the whole thing the zombies think we are all a bit odd and they start to blush when they meet you pulling them back into political correct behaviorism by shying away from you lot with your banners and stuff pressing their little snouts even harder against their cell phone screens pretending not to see you or pretending to be very busy with much more important things having Henry Kissinger on line one , next to the Dalai Lama or Dalai Zebra , whatever about Kissinger you know, you have to give it to him he does not fool around he tells you in the face what he thinks of humanity he does not dodge the topic but somehow they can get away with it is that not strange just think about it once they are " in" or " up there" they do as they please and somehow become untouchable amazing isnt it amazing

but than we blush again right when they talk down to us , the cattle, the peasant , like that this double speak again yes we heard it but it cant be right they d never do that or it must be me who misunderstands as I just cant grasp the concept of it must be me you see that s how it works must be me not them me always me who dont understand and is wrong never them ever infallible betters, our overlords of control must be more wise we just dont understand their wisdom the point of it all so it must be us we are silly and stupid as we dont understand their illumination we just dont get it thank god they are gonna take care of us soon in ways unimaginable gradually ..;step by step, never scare the sheep imagine where would we be without all this endless bullshit just imagine when you are born you get a ticket to the freak show when you are born in the US you get a front seat ticket to the freak show that s true and the morons on facebook cheer for putin, it s such a joke yes KGB putin indeed doing his chuckle as he talks about " fighting the NWO " whaaaaaaaaaaaaa gimme a fucking break or liberating Syria, yeah like they "libarted " the eastern countries like Poland, etc nice liberation there like " peace bombs" cognitive dissonance again but dont worry sheeple he is there to " help you" can you believe this two wings of the same ugly bird that runs the planet but they will never understand controlled opposition, playing both sides of the fence Roman armies and generals did that crap thousands of years ago and they still fall for it like a brick

[center]

Read carefully folks, dont overlook the message here.... it s hidden in plain view as they say in SEARCHING ' fishing / making up " WE " who s we????? ??????

WE came up with the IDEA , you see, get it ?

WE came up with the IDEA , so not facts or science, no, not even any sort of argumentation, no, skip that crap altogether

flog you with a RELIGION as that s what it IS...global warming = hoax but does not matter anyway as real or invented, as long as it fits the bill it s good enough for the hard of thinking the text should have been

In trying to find a big stick to whip you all the goyim with we invented a scam, a religion, fakery, to scare the peasants into obedience and to go along with the biggest hoax we ever pulled on them, called global warming or climate change, name does not matter, fake anyway as long as we convince them it s good enough as that would do the trick aka " fit the bill" that gets them stampeding the way we want to so they guide the stampeding herds where they want them to go like....cattle...

and , regardless of anything else who gives these NGO s the right to dictate world policy for their masters anyway ??? hmm it shows us where we are but keep voting folks keep voting , the next bunch of psychopaths is already waiting in line...hurry hurry keep living on hope as that s basically all it comes down to living on hope

funny the moment he mentions " new world order" the sheeple leave the meeting room asap just coincidence I guess..LOL this " oh my god a tin foiled hatter" look on their faces :o :o

yes the sheeple bought into the CO2 con, a heavily promoted con if you go along with the hoax you are in the big group of obedient citizens doing the authorised thingy following the agenda, even worse, promoting it themselves you know, in all this make believe hoopla crazyness I only saw one person doing the right thing so to speak in oceans of mind controlled government approved zombie fleets waving the funded banners going along with the herd so suddenly we, that means those who have some braincells left, dont fit into the promoted agenda so suddenly , as we see in the movie, have to explain why we should be allowed into the " truth movement" you see how it works pure cointel works great this is how it works, they take it all over and well you see the effect of it how real movements are pushed aside while the authorized controlled opposition steamrolls over real folk there the little ones at the bottom, unfunded, harashed, ignored, ridiculed because we wont suck on the you know what of the system and that s how it is I know and am aware it, these, are unhappy or not you know...comforting ...topics to say the least annoying, frustrating yes
but what we learned is that anyone, regardless of topic, who does not parrot the official agenda is pushed out of the truth movement in other words real truth movement is not allowed to piggy back on the fake truth movement anymore it was hard enough as it was doing this what you do and now we have this shite thrown over us like if it isnt bad enough already big take over taking place big all allowed and funded from the control grid it has their blessing you see that s what they want and they will have what they want psychopaths always get what they want one way or another the end justifies the means to me personally all these IPCC meetings, this global agenda , it s all a sherade as you see the "proper" panel members look down, literally on the audience this " why dont they just give up and bend over look" on their faces See it as a learning curve at least you got them startled believe you me 9 out of 10 people can t be bothered with this stuff reality, truth, etc they just cant and you have to accept that wether you like it or not they cant be woken up and cause havoc by promoting the agenda as you are a good citizen if you sing from the green agenda funding our own enslavement in an even higher level keep in mind that what you do is never aimed at the public at large as there is only a low percentage of the public that even can be woken up that s all there s in it for us to find or filter those out , and have them do something in any way getting them out of their facebook pigeonholes spouting the hoopla and actually getting to work on this properly not with facebook thumbs up solely you also have to accept that the majority dont want to know it is not just they dont know, they do sense, but they dont want to know and they mean what they say remember when we were sheep, in some way , would we really care in those days listening to stuff like geo engineering, life force energy, gmo, and all that no we would not we couldnt care less in those days and so are they trained into obedience to be talked down to by " experts" allowed experts not the real experts, those who are on board with the big scam and if you persist they turn viciously and do whatever is needed to push you away they dont WANT to know and they MEAN it just one thing, dont let this agenda they unleash now put you all down all of us everywhere at least they are not even pretending to be on the side of truth and humanity anymore they ve shown their true colors now so it is not necessariiy against chemtrails or whatever it even does not matter what you were doing there or what your " topic " was it does not matter

as only the global agenda matters now and anyone, for whatever reason or background refuses to sing from that songsheet is banned immediately mercilesly

dont let this crap take your spirit down Big respect for you all for daring to be on the chessboard as I myself wont be on that anymore, their playground it s not for me you see playing by their rules but your work is too valueable to be thrown away ok so best to stick to your own thing from now on and keep distance from the CO2 zombie apocalypse as long as you dont watch Eastenders or you know, go to Bingo parties you are doing just great ;) ;)

Re: Plaster orgonite

by josh » Sun May 30, 2010 7:35 pm

Nepi I have had plaster Orgonite in my home as well as other families that I have made pieces for, if there was any collecting of DOR from those pieces I would have been told since I see those folks all the time and they are quite sensitive energy wise. Another factor in the shooting down of the plaster is also the amount of business a whole lot of people would be loosing, the plaster means "self reliance" , it means all of us can do it, the children can have fun with it an create new combination, powerful combination that we have not thought of and the kids are not allowed to have because they are too young to play with a dangerous substance such as the resin and the sharp metal shavings. There no mystery about the plaster it is simple to make and to obtain. Make a broadcaster with plaster and "bless" the grid and see how it feel, see how much blue sky you are able to have Good luck

yeah Jenn, the pics are great, Terry's also, I mean the one this probably woman made up about him gorgeous

thank you Trolls LOL amazing job

that's always a sign they can't win you see, then they do these ridiculous personal unfounded attacks, name calling bla bla not going into the topic itself with intelligence, no way never

it's like this natural methods we use, they'll never really discuss it with any of us

that's out of the question they might just have a hard time and that's not what that's about it's about programming the sheeple again reassurance the few who speak out are odd and they, the herd, is sane that's what it's about reinforcement of a fake reality that's the function of MSM that's all it does enforce the scams

and, if you hear a lie often enough, one might start to believe it also as it happens from childhood onwards we are already programmed from the start very important you must brainwash kids if you fail to do so, you will have a hard time later on so they start at kindergarten now and are highly successful as we know, unfortunately

I always assume for some reason everybody does his homeworknot..

so I had discussed the microwave topic or ELF call it what you want it is artificial anyway, I like the phrase electromagnetic soup as that's what it is Discussed it once on facebook probably had no replies or so the new normals of human interaction nowadays sucks

anyway, tested the plasterite, yes it works great like a charm, knocks it out, just as well as all artificial crap they throw at us

So, for the five or so who have some braincells left, you can of course test it for yourself that means you have to enter dangerous territory as we live in an age where the girls wont dare to change the diaper of a baby without expert " guidance" you know

worked great, but just trialing there, see if it works, oh boy, just as great as it does against chemtrails and all that it just works but dont take my word for it do your own homework as a lot of folk are suffering from it as these massive cell towers pop up now like daisies all over the place after a summers rain blasting you into the system cancer galore

Jenn, really, you dont need to send it over to the UK over 2.5 kilos will cost you 30 Euro just shipping costs Look, Stephen worked with these ankle biters, those 8 year olds , and they make great plasterite it is so simple anyone can do it No need for expensive stuff as most folk dont have buckets of crystals, rose quartz etc around so no need for that just the basic stuff, maybe some sea shells, you can find them anywhere in deco shops or whatever some intent wont hurt either
and there you go

it does work great in the field of harmonizing the radiation so it becomes agreeable to the body etc it does work very well of course I doubted that too, as we are being flooded by so much disinformation and most folk simply parrot it off you see without checking or questioning etc
Funding will be sent tomorrow dont spend it on sending energy toys over to the UK LOL
it s for the workshops, etc mainly

I often wonder why we just dont give it all up what keeps us going why are we here so many questions and we never get real answers as the answers are inside us but it is not easy and from now on things will change as you have noticed yourself and it is true during our healing session a lot came floating belly up a lot is there a lot has happened did not put all the videos online as some were rather nasty how they take over is progressing very fast now the tone has been set and do not be mistaken what we have seen is just the beginning of the end of real movements you know we are all being flattened so what s the point as the iron fist comes out of the velvet glove How often my finger hovered over the delete button ha

you wouldnt know lots of times lots maybe we will soon lock down the forum permanently I hope
As I am through with postings and so forth It is too distracting for me absorbs too much energy and focus I dont have all the answers The postings must stop we must use our energy in other ways too and personally I hate being in the light I dont belong here it s not my place it just happened last man standing has to take the banner so be it not something I enjoy So as a sort of agreement I just lock it all down to avoid future postings unless we decide otherwise for a special reason and if it was not for Stephen s demand I d pushed the delete button long ago as the information is uploaded to the internet archive it is all there all of it if you search for plasterite you will find it so in that respect this forum is not necessary to keep posts going I wonder very often what keeps you going you saw what happened they want you lot out of the public eye that s obvious now maybe, just suggesting , again dont know all the answers, maybe focus on practical work just my take on it you have the right for your opinion but so do I I do unfortunately think we are beyond any negotiations with those characters that do the work on their masters voice they ll push this all through one way or another
and it often confuses me why you do spend so much time on those issues as you operate on their turf you dont stand a chance all of you on their chessboard with petitions and you know petitions here petitionis there jadija...bla bla bla.... proposals here and there and everywhere but we are flattened nonetheless

Look, J, the only reason for me in this all is to bring folk knowledge in the life force energy topic that s all which turned out a great succes on facebook LOL we managed to have five members or so maybe twenty whatever
I know there are thousands doing it all over now oh yes yes yes most things happen " underground " now esp on this topic most people dont even bother to go online as you know, what s the point anyway it is all so blatant now it boggles the mind the more we become aware the more the public seems to drown in a sort of hypnosis Love that rant of that guy you mentioned, it was great, I can still do better though but than no stone will be left standing hehehe

I know he is an operative with his flat earth BS, but still a good rant is a good rant we have to grant him that and we dont hear those too often do we no we dont

Besides, honestly , I am on my inner journey you see the monomyth
my journey and to be honest, could not be bothered by things like forums and such activities at least not on a continious base keep pushing the wagon forward it moves by itself I think will do fine without us it sure does

we will continue on a personal level, of course to keep the information flow going whenever necessary or when there is a sort of need to

Re: THE IRISH TOPIC

Support funds have been raised and sent in cash by airmail to Ireland today.

DSC020323.jpg (57.44 KiB) Viewed 212 times

Wont make a long story about it hehe

As you have now hereby been promoted to be the mother goose of the Energy squad you sure know what to do to move forward never one step back

As the only way out of this mess we are all in is through good works including things like education, creativity, a very loose term admitted but it covers a lot

You know they are setting up these big controlled groups now for herd management, you saw it yourself point is , it is game over for real movements and they ve made that very clear a downer ? hmm not really , we know the agenda , we know where we are heading one way or another

" I did a post about plasterite this morning (again) in the anti-geo-Ireland page after someone added the directions to make CBs. Need to keep reminding people not to go wasting their money and efforts on resin "

Look J, you are a mother goose to reckon with I see LOL...

not too political correct , hopefully you teach it to your flock too good for you to do at least some feedback on it to the ones who simply dont know not saying it s all propaganda, some just dont know but you know..kinda sad ...hundreds of bucks for the copper pipes resin hoopla and what for, no really what for no long lasting results weak method clumsy method , terribly expensive of trying to achieve a goal that cannot be reached that way mimicking nature

that s what it is imitation

this old ways wont open new doors

Also, as I confirmed recently, healers just love this stuff intuitively , they get it , and I mean truly get it right away the understand or recognise it immediately My healer she grabbed almost literally the tool of light As we go through austerity more and more , lot of folk around you have a hard time , even now already, scraping bucks together to acquire a large bag of Plaster of Paris as they have so many other fixed expenses now, everything is going through the roof , taxes, prices, groceries, the lot we are being taxed into the ground even bigger soon believe you me

Plasterite Affirmation group, I wonder how you came up with that idea certainly not from the United Nations LOL But it was always there , you just picked it up , it s always been around here among us in a way very creative of you to realise those things as there is something to it you are correct , it is a wonderful affirmation she wrote

plasterite/selenite the natural cleanser against chemtrail offense, emf and the decreasing of our once blue sky.

I send love, light, peace and harmony out to mother earth,
to the elementals,

trees plants
human helpers and truthers world wide united in the power of intention with the aid of plasterite to radiate a cleaner sky and earth.'

By Aine
Omagh, Northern Ireland

Pure and strong as the selenite is powerful without bling bling solid as those dolmens over there next week 7 PM Irish time Healing session for the Affirmation Group it s on facebook...but as not everybody is on FB myself included maybe a good idea to mention it here. as lady Kathryn from New Zealand wants to contribute nice of you to consider our buddies from down under

Also put up a post (got a lot of comments) about what happened to me at the party last evening.
My game partner from last week - "Robby" - the guy I'd talked to about Geo-engineering last week was sitting a couple of people away from me.
At one stage he leaned around behind the other person and said to me, "Jenny, just to let you know, you don't need to worry about chemtrails"
- I said ' Why. because they don't exists? " He goes 'Yes' end of quick conversation - the condescending prick.

Another word they forgot to teach me at Sunday School.... no no the prick part, I know that one, but the condenscending part of it

Synonyms Expand

Origin Expand

1300-50; Middle English condescenden < Late Latin condēscendere (see con-, descend); replacing Middle English condescendre < Middle French patronizing, disdainful, supercilious.

(...) and now feels he can 'reassure me'

Yes, he really does, he truly does believe that that is the case As eh...' Robby" yes I gave the genius a different name, goes along with the six o clock BBC brainwash completely a propaganda victim , totally socialized into communitarian Soviet thinking patterns you cant help poor Robby , Jenn, it s game over for him.

Nobody can help arrogant Robby as he has become the perfect outcome of a scientific indoctrination process

Like 9 out of 10 around you as you have probably noticed

So the moment clever Robby spots a thought criminal (= Mother goose) it is his obligation - as a good upstanding government controlled snitch drone - to take the poor thing back into the belief system/ control grid - as you have been misguided J, you see, it s you , it s us, we are misguided two and two does not always equal four , only when the authorities says so it is four otherwise it s whatever they want you to believe it is.

So actually , our little Robby is just trying to "save" the Selenite Queen

And so , as the story continues..ladies and gentlemen....soon after, magnificent Robby, the borg hive drone, stands with his mates in the pub , discussing and they feel sorry for him as he had to go through all this hardship...facing the enemy so unexpected...

"Robby , tell us again, what went down there ?"

"Well you see, it is a tough job nowadays as more and more get crazy and see lines in the skies, you see, those chemtrail nutters, it is so dissapointing to our society but I put all I had in it, I really made it count, every word of it , you see, and, as the lord is my witness, I brought back mother goose and a few alike back into sanity."

"Robby , you hero, you faced the enemy in the eye, up close, so bold of you, without police or thugs, such sacrifices and risks for the great work, if we tell our Communitarian Leader about it , ah.. be assured Robby, he will nominate you for the Golden Condenscending Prick Star in Moscow , you just cant stop a good thing coming"

"Look mates, I dont want to brag about it too much it may just be too much glory for me - ...a few seconds of silence ..for emphasis.....- "it was a nasty job , it just had to be done , I just could not wait for backup you see, had to capture the lost sheep right away , by myself, for this brave new world thing you see"

" Oh Robby ...speechless...if there were just a few more of you....this world would surely be fully in good order"

" I know ..I know."

" Another fluoride ale , Robby ? " ... " sure"

You see J, it s always about saving us you see always , that s the good reason , the exoteric, the real reason , esoteric , is you are not brainwashed enough something went wrong with your programming ...so that has to be reinforced..and..hopefully...you mob there, you " geo engineering activists" start for once promoting and carrying the proper banners , the " Ban CO2 " shields....promoting the global agenda

Sartire J, the only way to survive this crap Anyway you can buy a lot of bags soon Storage in winter is nasty so dont buy them all at once

Ahh thanks for post, I'm laughing so much, lucky the office is quiet, you can be so funny and perceptive Sunflower, love it - and I hope this 'Roddy' isn't on FB because he came in for a huge amount of very caustic criticism after my post - almost as good and acerbic as yours lol.

We need to keep 'needling' people into finding out about plasterite, a lovely Indian couple in my office today wondered about the cone on my desk, they were immediately given a short explanation, a bag of hearts and a note of links to find out about it. No-one ever refuses an offer of 'positive energy'.

I can hardly believe I'm to expect arrival of a donation towards buying plaster, a unique event. Thank you so much, very much appreciated. And you're right about taking care of our bags of plaster, mine are currently in a heap in the conservatory which is slightly warmer and less damp than the shed.

Really hoping the 'Affirmation Group' takes off, big or small numbers don't really matter, even a few people concentrating and linking our thoughts at the same time must be powerful. Just one of those ideas that come in out of the blue, but probably prompted by MJM getting people to pray for his endeavours.

Stumbled upon a simple method to make artwork using the usual recipe in combination with...hold tight.....clay it s rather self explanatory, a sort of framework , say a meter square, put in a layer of the right clay the modeling type press the flowers or other artifacts in, whatever you like pets included and put a layer of plasterite over it turn it around when dried remove the clay and voila done

Artist Creates Flower Fossils By Casting Plants In Plaster

In 2012, Rachel Dein showed the owners of a flower-shop a plaster-cast tile she had made from a bouquet. They were impressed, and soon the UK artist began receiving commissions to make more of these modern “fossils.” Dein’s method is simple: she presses flowers into wet clay and then pours in a mixture of plaster and concrete to produce a tile. The dry tiles can be left unadorned or be painted. “I enjoy the magic of plaster casting to create fossils from everyday life,” Dein writes on her website. “Whether it’s a shell found on holiday, your grandmother’s treasured lace, a Christening gown, or the flowers from your wedding.” You can find more of her work on Dein’s website, and see pieces for sale on Etsy.

Testimonials

"Thank you for one of the best afternoons I have spent this Summer. I was always told that I was not artistic at school and have spent the last few years discovering my creativity through my gardens. Your workshop was another step on that journey. You are a delight and pleasure to spend time with. Your passion and enthusiasm is totally infectious and the workshop was perfectly timed and planned to allow us to really learn this new skill and go home with real works of art.” Rachel “Surrounded by tiles large and small that Rachel had made, she showed us the various processes involved and even allowed us to raid her garden to produce these unique and beautiful pieces of art. What I love about them is they capture a moment of time, like a photograph but in such exquisite detail. We didn’t need a vehicle to return home, we could have floated – it was such an inspirational afternoon.” Karoline

“Creating something unique is not always easy or much fun, but with Rachel’s skill and detailed guidance we were all able to produce tiles that were personal to us and a high standard. I was intrigued by the appearance of my tiles and how they captured the very essence of spring flowers in a timeless and elegant way.” Patricia

“I really enjoyed the workshop. It was interesting seeing how the tiles were made and even people who weren’t terribly artistic had fun arranging the flowers and rolling the clay. All the tiles looked great and now I want one of my friends to have another party and invite me!”

Re: THE IRISH TOPIC

Did we post this film ? Is that the one you hand out to the public ?

Thought it was one of those

HD version

Personally I still prefer the Carnicom version it is more technical and it exposes the "official standpoint" in other words total radiosilence and disinformation he also offers more substantial evidence of how the system operates in dodging opposition Carnicom deals heavily with official documentation, like patents, official correspondence, etc.

" What in the world are they spraying" goes more into the basic level of things but might be more appropriate to an unaware public.

Carnicom is aimed at the already awakened public who need the technical facts.

unfortunately it shows ...Dane..who has shown his real colors as we speak he is using the geo engineering issue to deflect and mold it into " climate chaos" and "global warming" now...unfortunately playing right into Agenda21...yikes...bad puppy there he is pushing the " global warming" scam with utmost verosity now amazing dude really makes you wonder doesn't it but as he has sucked in most half awake sheeple they will follow him blindly and without questioning into la la land... good work Dane...pfffffffffff

Mr Dane is an exceptional good con artist one of the better ones around but he shows colors now big time
hustling data around and around until it fits his agenda Calls Al Gore a scam artist but next sentence he himself promotes the global warming hoax ??????
what ?
that s nice double speak there pfffffffffff hopeless case he is but most will fall for it , as they always do we saw that in these stop climate chaos marches could make a big rant about it but what for....useless Jenn, the soviet leaders of the not too far away future should call Moscow already just as they did with Robby and nominate that dude for the " condescending prick award" but this time, as he is way more talented than our Robby make sure they put some extra oak leaves to go with it.

big pay checks do wonders to idealists, I don't think he ever was one, just waiting to take the movement over that's all there is to it have seen it so many times over and over again like David Icke first facts and then, when you have the audience, steer them into la la land always "infinite consciousness molded with oneness" in other words, don't organize for heavens sake, don't do anything useful it's monsters from Planet Zork doing this all, he says so you can't do much about it maybe buy a helmet to keep you from being abducted from aliens or so makes them twist and manipulate agendas so fast and most will never spot it...the sheeple 2.0 Sheridan calls them hhahaha....he is right, upgraded sheeple fall for it, big time. because they trust him now and believe all he says...sad to say so not a real surprise to me ...these big leaders are usually all bought and paid for....always...otherwise they would not be there in the first place...as simple as that....no mystery there

On the other side of the fence, an unfortunately large percentage of the anti-geoengineering community is in total denial of the completely verifiable extremely rapid warming of our biosphere. The planet is heating up at a rate equal to 4 Hiroshima bombs PER SECOND. 2014 was the warmest year ever recorded. 2015 will break that record and 2016 will likely shatter the record yet again. Facts about global warming have nothing to do with Al Gore or carbon credits (both of which are scams). Rather, it is about reality and credibility. Both factors are essential pillars to stand on if the battle to expose and halt climate engineering is to be successful. The planet's former energy balance and equilibrium has been radically altered from countless anthropogenic causes, with geoengineering at the top of the list.

so he twists his facts again, says just because Al Gore and the goons make a big buck out of the carbon trade crap they are bad and immediately pushes the global warming agenda as being real ??? makes you want to shake your head in disbelief...there s a talented psychopath at work....oh boywow encouraging others around us to do the same. By making every day of the battle to reach a critical mass of awareness. The human race has decimated the planet in countless ways, climate engineering is the epi thanks Dane, THAT s all I needed to know, loud and clear right out of the Club of Rome

Humans are the problem so let s roll with the agenda case closed

I know most don't care or understand all this " inner hoopla" but it is important as soon the chemtrail folk will be waving their CO 2 banners you ll see or at least " going along" with the agenda without making too much fuzz about it that s what it s all about derailing the geo-engineering movement

best to read that crap properly J, really so as you have experienced yourself what happens if you belong to the global warming deniers....and don't jump when they tell you to jump.... you will be all ostracized, from now on, not just geo-engineering folk who refuse to bark properly but basically ANYONE who refuses to bow down to the golden agenda, CO2 worship, depopulation, sustainability, green green green...bla bla...is cast out as these puppies have the dance floor now , Jenn and you better get used to it fast.

Beautiful photos of Ireland, love the one of Fourknocks, a very special place for me, never saw this photo before, thanks. It's been well gifted with selenite, as also a huge communications mast a couple of hundred meters away from it.

Re: THE IRISH TOPIC

Heard the letter has arrived in Ireland beautifully and in good order.
Content intact. Glad to hear the postal service has done a great job.

Lots of bags to play with and do whatever you feel right.
Just keep it in a special place and make good use of it.

It is not that I would not like presents and such but that is surely not needed please keep that in mind

Have given you the German's personal address to contact if you like to do so.

He must be very proud of you, to say the least.

Taking the right choice in life is not easy to do it is very hard to do sometimes

Only a few people really showed us the way forward and they always kept their promise against all odds

If you write to him say hi from me

I did warn him about you because this, what you do, the others included, is what it's all about most importantly the massive gifting efforts you all undertake providing methods that work, easy to achieve and won't break the bank

I am also thinking of making some nice pieces and just give them as "showroom pieces" to all sorts of places

not by the truckload, just here and there, a few yes for free

for the time being

sometimes it is maybe better not to mention anything whatsoever it is really so people do notice it works very well so better not make it too complicated and such for newcomers

it moves by itself

I was anxious of course, if it would arrive or not, glad it all went well.

Re: THE IRISH TOPIC

Dear lady J , you are welcome hehe.

If you read between the lines mr Timo is very interested in expanding the energy that s what he s in for , that s what he emphasizes too , if you read carefully you can pick it up easily he has done his effort in helping folk to setup classes all over the world, all grassroots, of course to do plasterite classes, things like that, real work, real energy, to get it moving and makes thins come into reality plasterite is like homelessness , Carlin talked about, as long as there is no money to be made of it, it wont be touched if our coporate overlords could earn a fat buck on cleaning up the streets in that sense they would clear up pretty fast believe you me especially with carbon credits LOL

it may come across to newcomers we just nag about this great system they have in store in us a more advanced form of slavery it basically is, total control.

As we know that s just one side of the story there are many more sides there is joy too and lots of it and awareness, real awareness gained by the tools of light offered in that respect the selenite is a winner, you really should have seen her, my healer, once she got the cone whaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaa protected it like her baby no way I could get it back

I know...I tried....

so she will have many benefits from that strong orgonite piece

was not easy to leave one of my puppies behind in a new home..but...one has to do what one has to do.... some sacrifices must be made....

had a lot of rose quartz and that shows the energy it brings in is colored by it like pink glasses

Oh she will have noticed its energy, its manifestations, for sure as during the session good things happened as we talked for an extra hour , for free, so to speak and the sky was very blue too this strange atmosphere I have around me all the time at my place was there too this ...something in the air...made itself already noticed at that stage what s the moral of the story , if you go to an aware person and want to make a present , make sure you dont bring along your best pieces you wont get them back there is always more than the eye can see in such happenings

you know what the thing you mentioned about R and SG , yes , strange to say so but that s what I do too never really thought about it but when I make them it usually somehow ends up in " calling up the sylphs" strange

never really analysed it , it just happened but she knows, most healers or aware folk, lets put it that way, catch on so fast

I dont need words for that you see

they just know without words

Re: THE IRISH TOPIC

Regarding Tony, as that topic sort of slid its way in here hehehe, thanks to your affirmation group what an idea huh ? why did we not come up with that , damn..LOL

Tony is from the old bunch

Josh healing squad

He s a real healer , that s all I have to say as we live in an age where a lot of truths and values are sort of " mused" into something else taken over, infiltrated, diverted, call it what you want.

Real good things that work for us they do not like.

So for those in the US who might be interested in a healing session, maybe a time to promote the good man a bit more.

It is good to be skeptical or to question things, you should, that s why you are here otherwise you d be watching TV or something

I just went into healing because I saw good results it had on other people, so there must be something good going on there it does work but one must be a bit careful of course , as with all things in life generally I suppose, sort out the good things from the not so good things.

Dear Tony - You were such a Light yesterday; I felt so much lighter and hopeful - depression is sometimes courting me through all the breakdowns. There are few (almost none) in my life who can hear me and I have no family who choose to connect with me. I send you deep gratitude and blessings for your great work. I love you.

My work with Tony served as a validation of what I had been addressing before "seeing" Tony, in fact, it was preparation as his energy work with me was palpable. It was also fun/interesting to have the work continue as I slept and noticed the energy movement during one of my dream states! Bottom line is I am grateful to God/Universe for who Tony is being in the world as he is an anchor of Love.

I have had the pleasure to have energy healing from Tony Geron. I am challenged by Lyme and adrenal exhaustion. Both of these have been causing an infinite fatigue life and extreme pain especially in my legs. My legs are weak, I can barely walk.

I am so grateful to Tony for his help. He is just a wonderful loving healer. I feel safe and highly accepted during the sessions. I am pleased to say that after the last session my symptoms first got worse, but now they have eased. I no longer have to eat painkillers, my dream has deepened and tiredness has improved significantly. I am also able to do small walks in the forest.

I am so moved by Tony's generosity and desire to help. With his help I am able to share help to those in need. Thank You Dear Tony <3

It's hard to put into words how Tony's sessions make me feel. I have felt my heart exploding and tears running down my face, while feeling completely engulfed in love. I have had both a private session with Tony and have been on many group calls with him too. Every time, something different happens. I can feel my energy shifting, I can feel the love he personifies, my hands become hot and tingle, I go into such a deep state, still conscious, but go to a place that is infused with golden light and love. Tony is so gifted at what he does, if you ever get the chance for a session with him, group or private, don't pass it up - it will be life changing!

Tony embodies so much love and it was exactly what I needed... Someone to see me, to believe in me and to love me and to bring the love through him to me in his energy. He did so much for me. I can still feel the warmth when I think of it. It was a huge gift. I think we all get what we need in energy healing sessions and it is different for everyone. The compassion and love that poured through completely enveloped me. I was uncomfortable a bit at accepting a free session (which meant there was something there for me to look at and he didn't know this but he actually encouraged me to book a second appt ... I actually would not have if he hadn't suggested it, just because I felt bad having another free session and right now I am not consciously aware of where my money is at to contribute in this moment. Anyway I have been on these calls with Tony and had different experiences. The energy is amazing, one time, I 'went out' ,it didnt' actually feel like sleep and as soon as I heard the phone click, I was immediately back, wide awake ... cool. Know even if you don't feel anything, there is so much happening ... energy knows where it is to go within each of us. I never used to be able to feel anything and I would get discouraged and I was told just to say I am feeling it and you will feel something and keep not negating yourself because there is something to feel and it will grow.

I have had the privilege of receiving 2 session by Tony. The 1st one was a general healing. I could feel much of what was happening. It was a gentle but knowing and loving energy tune-up. Afterward Tony shared some generous hearted information that he saw in my aura. It was a fabulous validation that made my heart swell and spirit revive. My 2nd session was focused on Lt. shoulder pain.(torn rotator cuff) My shoulder is making progress. It has been in much pain for over 6 months. Tony also gave my beloved cat a treatment and he seems more perky. I am so grateful to be able to share Tony's healing heart and gift with some friends as well. They have loved their sessions as well.Tony has a true natural gift of healing from his multi-dimensional heart!

Energy He by Ton

sometimes things cannot be explained with words only or in a left brain fashion you have to be open and willing to take a step outside the box there is a lot in store for you if you do I never want to go back to my previous reality that's all I have to say to it

Very nice of him to show up in the affirmation group typical of him, always loved his comments in the original forum hahaha

we all need a bit of healing once in a while not saying it must be by a healer there are many other ways of balancing too and I use those too but it is an option and I love to try out my options in life and to be honest it takes a lot of guts to admit to that anyway thanks for everything Tony

Re: THE IRISH TOPIC

As agenda 21 is the big stick, ties in with all other agendas, not something that should be viewed upon as a small issue like ah " just carbon tax" no no it will expand untill we are all, the planet, under the same boot it will affect all there is to affect, everything goes in there everything

Outrageous lies are being presented as truths and most follow it by folk with straight faces in expensive suits belonging to those societies with big paychecks for their " great work" as they dont give a shit about anyone that s not in the big club as simple as that

Gangs run the planet and most think that s the way it ought to be the cant imagine anything else

Considering lady H aka Crystal yes, missed that touch often , as it is so indirect those protests at least one person called a dog a dog no one else did not efficiently and yes she is very intense also something I miss a lot nowadays as it is all so sort of tranquilized the " movements"

like robots

doing a " program"

I hope she keeps that unadapted behavior it s worthwhile seeing I must admit cant do too much in winter so just made three copies of the first cone also connected three broadcasters into one big structure so just one device is at the other end as all cables are connected with another like in series of batteries very powerful, the energy almost pushes me flat in a good way

Re: THE IRISH TOPIC

yes, lady Jennifer

I saw that

At the moment doing some work on Schauberger, for those who might be interested as that s one of the ways our good man in Germany came up with the concept of working with nature in regards to breakthroughs in the life force energy field in advancing the whole thing. If one goes into the work , the documented research of folk like Schauberger but also Reich, one comes up with amazing ideas and new ways of looking at things, things you usually don't hear too much about in the " orgonite " community as not all information presented " fits the bill" as they say. They both worked with nature, also an issue that is often overlooked etc etc

Most folk nowadays when they hear the name Reich immediately get "nudged" into this metal resin hoopla, the dogma whereas those people fought AGAINST the system, the dogma. Kind of ironic once you think about it.

Reich did work with organic-an organic, etc but that is just one side of the story there are many more chapters who rarely are touched upon because they don't fit the bill they don't fit into the dogma, the $$$ every ruling dollar dogma.

I had several discussions with the wonderful creative person from Germany about such topics

Things are not always what they seem in this world

Anyway, will post those things in the personal opinions section.

Will also have to work here to get rid of the naughty emoticons as, thanks to mr Duncan...wink wink...we had to stack up a bit but that s been done, so the wild emoticons can go now....

Nice of the new members to join

Appreciated

And again, I do mention, this is a free forum , folk can speak out their opinion as they see right that s as I always thought the whole point of a forum but we know that is usually not the case as often certain agendas pop up and start to take over we have no agenda except from making the world a better place using tools of light and good work that s all there is to it and we do very well in that field I mention.

Again, thanks for joining, take your time if you like we wont push anyone to post the point is to share good information from multiple angles different views because good decisions can only be made if the person has all sides of a topic without the usual omission that is so common nowadays not just in main stream media by giving only one side of the story and guiding people into opinions.

AHO!

And a joyous Welcome.

Thank you Sunshine, for that amazing post regarding me, I was floored and very humbled by reading it.

I have been playing quietly in solitude for a couple of years now since Josh's passing. He left a huge whole in my Universe when he sickened and lost his battle to cancer. We had been dear friends for years, our love of clear blue skies is what inspired a mutual friend to introduce us. Josh was an amazing man, truly a warrior for Love on our world. His dedication to Mother Earth was everything to him. He taught me so many lessons along the way, his inspiration always coming from Nature and the desire to improve the gifts and tools we might create to help keep our home clean.

I have numerous pieces around our home still, having not poured in probably three years now. I had so many pieces poured and awaiting painting, I simply stopped. LOL

What I will share with you all, is something so very key and at the very Heart of what Josh came up with, with plasterite.

As a Kick Ass Galactic Shaman, as Josh would laughing refer to himself at times, the most Sacred part of our Creations, is the knowledge and reverence, that in making such, we truly, are creating Life. Consciousness. It, consciousness, exists in all things. Everything.

Sitting upon the deck, adjoined to the front of Jacques's home, we sat one day, and silently, just together, slid into Oneness, with everything around us. Jacques looked at me, and asked me if I would join him in some tea. I nodded, still in rapture of the world around me. After he silently rose after nodding himself, I sat there and simply wondered. I could see each leave, every branch, small and large. Mother surrounded me in every direction. It was sublimely Heaven. I went into my Heart, and started to pour out, through my eyes, all of my Love, to everything I saw around me, and with each glance, from my Heart, I proclaimed quietly, I LOVE YOU, I SEE YOU, I KNOW YOU LIVE. I AM HONORED..... and suddenly, I was pulled invisibly from my body, and I was the leaf I was looking at, and I, as the Leaf, was bursting with JOY!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!! I shook and vibrated, and I sent back to this MAN before me, LOVE!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!! Instantly, I rocketed around, to everything I had glanced upon, and the same happened, over and over again, rapidly. I then shot back into my body, and I was RADIANT. Tears poured down my face, so profound was this. Jacques, upon returning, took one look at me, and sat our tea down, wrapping me in his arms, crying, and said, "My boy, my boy! You have seen, and now you KNOW!! Oh my boy, you are now truly a Shaman, for you know the very secret of this Life. And that is, it is ALIVE, in every sense. A pencil, a car, a cloud, a chicken. Different forms of Life. Of God. Of the Great Secret. All are imbued with Source, ARE Source. So you must see them, address them, reverently and with distinction. In this, you give respect and acknowledgement of it's Divinity!"

So you see, we, as Creators, create through our hands, our desires and thoughts, and we bring into LIFE, a consciousness. Be that orgonite or plasterite, the TRUTH is, a new, baby, sentient Being is formed by you. Love it, talk to it, instruct it.... LINK it to you, if you are ready to go forward, with a piece of your DNA.... hair, nail clipping, tears, spit.... do so in Ceremony, bestowing a piece of you to forever link your Creation to you. Distribute anywhere, and you always can update / control through intention. OR, you can also imprint your energy upon a crystal before using as part of your Creation, and use that to instruct / upgrade your usage of piece(s). If doing that way, tie your crystals to one Master crystal that you keep. Label it if you wish.... Clear Sky Group 1.... I pretend I have a knob sticking out of mine that allows me to crank up the volume....

More advanced thoughts are with using Energy Bubble insertion into piece during curing. Cupping hands, see a blue bubble of Light coalescing between them, filled with Electric Blue Light! See it getting brighter and brighter, stronger and stronger. Hold this vision for twenty or thirty seconds, then instruct / program Bubble.... "Sole purpose is to provide clean, pure Life Force Energy to my Creation, Mist. Deactivation code is Earth. Program is LOCKED." Then drop, throw Bubble into curing Creation.... with LOVE and INTENTION!

The more we Play, the more we learn and grow. And yes, you may ask Elementals or Slyphs to be caretakers of your Creation.... hint, hint

Love and so much JOY to each of you!!!!!!

Would love to connect with anyone desiring a session. First one is always free. For anyone here afterwards, just use the promotion code IRISH to get $50.00 off the normal session cost.

Blessings and HUGS!

Tony

Lots of gratitude for this wonderful post

UPLOADED TO SHERV.NET

still have to digest it all ah...good work, so much going through me good things, things we need so much, you send an amazing amounts of good healing vibes out easy to spot , lots of joy and light there, and I think to myself if I continue this chosen path out of my inner will an inner acceptance to just do good work while keeping my soul and eyes open to what s around us maybe, just maybe one day I might come within distance to have that sort of " swing " you have in healing work Very nice of you to give an example as for most of the affirmation group, well...you know...it s all a bit new to us stepping somewhat out of the box here for most...some have to practice somewhat and some know the way to go already there is something in it for everyone of us.

When I first came across all of this I knew right away I was tapping into something big, the only way forward is for the person to have an open mind go for love and intention and take a ride on the wild horse so to say, can be frightening at first, well just trust the horse and be open and respectful to it that's all it takes. Tested all this by myself over a couple of years and it's all true even though at first, when I first went into this side of life I thought often ah that cannot be, that's ...exaggeration, etc etc, but it is all true every word of it that has been spoken about these methods, their effects and their benefit to ourselves and those around us

Yes I do support the idea, most folk are somewhat reluctant of doing a healing session I do understand that

There is nothing wrong with that I was like that myself a few years ago, this " nah that's not for me" like most folk are immediately assuming there is " something wrong" with me but that is not as it is but that is how most folk see it in the wrong light

I would really wholeheartedly suggest a healing session to anyone simply anyone

even if it is just to see what it does if it is for you or not, so to say lots of benefits and let's be honest in the times we go through now a healing session surely won't hurt lets put it mildly here very mildly...

As we all have been " infected" by the reality given to us by the system as I call it which is only a fraction of what's really out there to experience.

I only know one must, if desired to know, really go for it and manifest it, actually do it, making the tools of light, sending out the good vibes always ask nature

ask permission, ask guidance, insight, ask them to show more reality

I was stubborn too before I washed ashore on orgonite plus hehehe but I am glad I went for it, big BIG improvement of my life big changes unbelievable with not too much help basically just one step at a time

Nature, the spirits around us, for lack of a better word show us a lot once we start to listen usually I ignored that but now I just let it roll there is so much in this but it can only fully be experienced by the individual themselves it cannot be taught to understand one can be shown the road but one has to travel it by themselves no shortcuts allowed, it just does not work that way

Great post Tony real good dynamite hehehe thank you

We must be so we have no choice
There is no other way
I do it too
But I cannot explain it so marvelously as you do but that s what we do, what I do , especially during gifting trips most people have no idea, it is not a mystery, it is working with the powers around us that are there to help us it is real, very very real

Nice of you to share an experience with Jacques or Josh as we called him what a man, the real deal there the real deal
what an honor he shared it with us as we were in the dark on a lot of things his sharing attitude to help us all to find the endurance, the patience with us all, also lots of respect for people as most had never dealt with those topics before. The same applies to all good men and women who are on the good path each in their own way

Love the way you present it!!!

very understandable very to the point
Now I even smile

A healing session is like reloading the battery re balancing Thanks again for your wonderful eye opening post Tony appreciated
now it is almost time , few minutes so must do the affirmation connection now getting better at it

Re: THE IRISH TOPIC

Jenn and Aine this session went very well, much better than the first one as we all are new to this, well most of us are

The first session was emotional for us as things happened and sort of left a stain on the whole thing, understandable.

This one was amazing, total focus and energy flow, very pleasant, why did we not come up with this earlier, ah ..

So strong , takes a little practice but than it works well

I asked for protection in this one, also for other things, but mainly that as there is a lot thrown at us, the aware people out there, all of us basically one way or another as the planet is pulled from all sides by the cabal

This one was good, I use only about ten minutes to get the message across Protection is a flag that covers a lot , also goes into stability, grounding, balance again so we don't let us become leaves in the nwo wind...

Call it what you want, call it this call it that just words

but there is a meaning behind it

Yvonne calls it meditation

OK, call it that does not matter, just words the inner goals we want matter what also helps , I got that from lady M , my healer, is to drink lots and lots of water during a session, it helps, it just helps and sometimes take deep breaths, do deep breathing, not too long, just a couple of times it strengthens the whole thing

Anyway it was a very good session, prepared for it better than the last time took my two newest cones and there you go this is nothing new People like Eric Raines touched upon that much much more early than me

He is a very good man

I have to work my way through it all to understand physically test these tools of light and feel the manifestations of it all than I understand

Never had to explain much to Eric also a healer, such amazing folk before I ended the sentences he already made his first broadcaster 30 meter cable and more than a meter high , just like that such people do exist he is also a very funny person and he helps folk out with these methods he helps folk , he is probably also in your affirmation group on FB wise choice Jenny

our weekly happy moment so to speak projecting this energy on good things that bring us further and we all know we need it more than ever before.

Maybe a good idea to bring up the topic of shaman, medicine man, again, just words, describing something or in some way what takes place here, each of us working in their own specialized areas we feel most comfortable with , have the most expertise in, gained through training and insight over time.

As Tony mentioned once you work with these methods , the natural methods we prefer, knowledge and understanding will be shown to the searcher of truth as that s basically what we all are searchers of truth.

Nor does it matter whether it is a Celtic healer , druid, shaman, teacher , helper call it what you want, or some sort of Native American, it all comes down to the same topics.

Maybe in order to brush it up a little definition wont hurt too much

Also, funny topic, a healer has to be paid !!!

Because a healer gives you something and you should give something in return, this balance thing again in the old days you could give him or her natural things you were into, if you were a hunter you gave him a rabbit or something or fish or if you were more artistic and make leather stuff or jewelry you can give him or her a piece of that but now , for some time , we live in a world of money , so nowadays you give money to a healer as the healer gives you a lot in return, believe you me even if a session would cost 500 dollar it would still be , in compare to the gains, ridiculously cheap

A healer is not in for the money, but things have to be balanced it is very important Medicine Man

Definition of Medicine Man: What is Medicine Man? A Medicine Man is a priestly healer and spiritual leader of Native American tribes who believed that physical nature might be brought under the control of man, in the person of a Medicine Man. Native American tribes adhered to a range of beliefs, ceremonies and rituals regarding communication with the spiritual world in which their religious leader enters supernatural realms particularly when the tribe is facing adversity or need to obtain solutions to problems afflicting the community including sickness.

Medicine Man Mystery

The word 'medicine', associated with the Native Indians, means mystery and this word was applied by Europeans to anything mysterious or unaccountable. The Native Indians do not use the term 'Medicine Man' but in each tribe they have a word or term of their own construction that is synonymous with mystery or mystery man. Their principle deity, the Great Spirit, is also referred to as the Great Mystery.

The Medicine Man and Native American Beliefs

The Medicine Man is believed to have a spiritual connection with animals, supernatural creatures and all elements of nature. Spirits were believed to inhabit the rivers, lakes, mountains, trees, plants, sky, stars, sun, animals, insects, fish, flowers and birds. The belief and practice of Native American Indians incorporates a number of beliefs such as Animism, Totemism, Shamanism, Fetishism and Ritualism. These beliefs, taken as a whole, have strong religious connotations. This belief system, and the role of the Medicine Man, is particularly associated with primitive cultures of hunter gatherers who believed that every natural object is controlled by its own independent spirit, or soul.

The Medicine Man - Good and Bad Spirits

There were good and bad spirits. The good spirits helped men and the bad spirits were liable to wreck havoc and harm on people and their tribes. It is the bad spirits that cause trouble, suffering, sickness, death and disease. When a man became ill it was believed that a bad spirit had entered his body and taken his soul away. It is therefore not surprising that the Native Americans would wish to gain power over these spirits. If a Medicine Man had control over the spirits he became extremely powerful. A Medicine Man would know protective chants and words and have a special knowledge of objects which he carried in a Medicine Bag and would disarm bad spirits and protect their owners. This type of knowledge is what the Native Americans mean by "medicine" or "mystery." The Native Americans who spent their lives in trying to gain such knowledge are referred to as Shaman, medicine people, mystery men, or a Medicine Man.

The Role of the Medicine Man

The Medicine Man used appropriate words, chants, objects, dances and rituals to protect men from evil spirits - his role is that of opponent to the bad spirits and of guardian to the ordinary man. The role of the Medicine Man differs from tribe to tribe as there are some regional and tribal variations to their beliefs in Shamanism. There are, however, several common roles that are shared by every Medicine Man. A Medicine Man was a healer, communicator, educator, prophet and mystic:

*The Medicine Man was a strong communicator and provided help and advice to members of the tribe, for which he / she was paid

He was an educator and historian, the keeper of myths, legends, traditions and tribal wisdom

The Medicine Man was a healer. He possessed supernatural Spiritual Healing powers and the ability to treat sickness caused by evil spirits - hence the Westernised name 'Medicine Man'.

The Medicine Man was a prophet. He had the ability to perform various forms of prophecy

He was a mystic and possessed the ability to leave the body and communicate with the spirit world

In many tribes, including the Cheyenne and the Sioux, the Medicine Man also had the role of the head warrior or war chief which made him the most influential man of the tribe.

Pawnee Medicine Man*

The Equipment of the Medicine Man

A Medicine Man was equipped with a number of objects that helped him to communicate with spirits in other worlds. They used dances, gestures and sounds as the symbolic powers of Medicine Man to enter the spirit world. The means and powers by which the Medicine Man practised his role included:

Knowledge of the Trance State and the use of trance-inducing methods and techniques to go on vision quests and incite tribe members

The use of symbolic regalia and sacred objects such as the calumet, or pipe, in Medicine Shamanistic ceremonies and rituals

Wearing ceremonial clothes, such as amazing costumes worn by the Medicine Men Skinwalkers

The Medicine Man of some tribes also used masks that were believed to hold spiritual powers and would identify them with the spirits in other worlds and activate their powers.

Symbolic magic, incantations, prayer sticks, feathers, war dances, rain dances and hunting dances with the use of rattles and drums to incarnate the spirits of nature and amplify their power

Fasting and cleansing rituals

Rite of Passage Rituals - where he advised on the significance of the Power Animal revealed on a or on a Spiritual Journey or in Vision Quests and provided sacred contents to be placed in Medicine Bags

War Paint: Medicine Men often chose certain markings and symbols for warriors during the application of the War Paint. This afforded the wearer with 'Magic' for power and protection by drawing on natural powers and combining these with the power of the warrior

What is Celtic Shamanism?

Shamanism is found across the whole world, and its practice spans many thousand years. Pre-dating all organised religions, it nonetheless has common threads of practice which unite shamans of all nationalities and all times, from the most distant past to the present day. There is some evidence to suggest that humans were practicing forms of shamanism as far back as the Palaeolithic, and certainly evidence for Mesolithic and Neolithic shamanism is widespread and in many indigenous cultures today it not only survives but is experiencing a resurgence. It is a primary and primal form of communicating with spirits and the spirit world, of understanding and interacting with the universe. By becoming a 'walker between the worlds' the shaman, acting as messengers and intermediaries between the mortal world and the realm of spirits can bring wholeness, protection, healing and knowledge direct from the spirit realm for use by all their community or tribe.

There are many traces of shamanism being practiced in ancient Britain, such as the cave paintings in Cresswell Crags which date from 13,000 years ago in the upper Palaeolithic era. Shamanic relations with the spirit world can also be seen in the construction of the many Neolithic barrow mounds, stone circles, standing stones and processional ways that are scattered like gems across Britain and Ireland, and in the additional archaeological evidence that is often discovered at such sites, in the positions of burials and the deposits of ritual offerings, for example. These Shamans were the ancestors of the later Celtic shamans, who wove aspects of the Celtic culture from Europe into their practices and way of life, in turn evolving into the druids, known and feared by the Romans until their suppression in the 1st Century CE. European druidry was said to have its roots and power base in Britain, where the most powerful druids practiced, and after the Romans many British and Irish druids converted, at least in name only, to Christianity and became monks for survival and the recorded preservation of their lore, which was once preserved only orally. Today Celtic shamanism draws from the wisdom, practices and beliefs of our Celtic ancestors, which was recorded by these Christianised druid monks, and by the druid schools themselves which survived in numerous forms until the mid 18th century. In addition to this, archaeology continually provides more and more evidence of Celtic and earlier British and Irish shamanism, as does folk-memory. A great deal of lore, traditional cures, tales and practices have been handed down orally and have survived to modern times where they are now being recorded and form an ever increasing body of knowledge which has its roots in our ancient pagan past.

Celtic pagan culture and shamanic lore has been both unfortunate and very lucky. Whilst Christianity and the Roman conquest decimated much of Britain and Ireland's indigenous culture and spirituality, much of what was preserved survived with only obvious and easily removable overlays of Christian sentiment and Roman propaganda. Thus we are left with a lore of two halves, one being the voices of the conquering culture and religion, and the other containing the clear traces of our indigenous ways. These two halves separate easily in most cases, leaving those who try to unearth the ancient knowledge of our ancestors a relatively easy task. Much knowledge and wisdom can be gained by working actively with our native mythology for example, such as the tales of Taliesin, Cu-chullain, Bran, and Cullwch and Olwen, all of which are known to have their roots far back in pre-history. Our ancient indigenous shamanism can in this light be seen as the logical mother of Druidry and the later magical practices of Ireland and the British Isles, through Saxon wizardry, to cunning men and wise women and traditional Witchcraft to influencing many forms of Wicca today. All through these run the practice of communing with spirits, and traversing the Otherworld, of working with spirit allies and elementals, contacting and understanding the powers of the land, and applying these gifts in the mortal world, in a way which is distinctly British and Irish. Whilst no spiritual practice remains unchanged over centuries or millennia, with diligence and clear thinking, as well research and the promptings of spirit, our own Celtic form of shamanism takes shape once again in a useable form that is both ancient and consistent with our heritage, as well as being relevant for our lives today.

At the heart of all modern magic, is the shaman, and the Celtic shaman, like the ancient British and Irish shamans before them, understood the central importance of good relations with the spirits which surround us. They recognised, like shamans all across the world today, that the mortal soul is a spirit in its own right, in need of sustenance and support from the spirit realm, and sometimes in need of protection and retrieval from it, in times of sickness, trouble or disempowerment. At such times, a walker between the worlds is essential as an ambassador and warrior, as well as a healer, standing for the human need amidst the spirit realm, facing the numinous as a pioneer and guardian of the human soul. Unlike New Age shamanism, or Neo-shamanism as it is sometimes called, Celtic shamanism recognises the dark and perilous side of the spirit world, as well as within human and all mortal nature. Central to the shamans work therefore is the attainment of allies, of guides and guardians from the spirit realm to help the shaman in their work. These are relationships based on trust and mutual assistance, at least in the Celtic tradition, where many allies are called 'cousins' or 'co-walkers', benefiting from the exchange of experiences. Thus when a shaman works with an ally that is a salmon for example, they experience life as a salmon and learn their ways, and the spirit salmon in turn experiences some of the life of the shaman. This is known as shape shifting. Allies, like any spirits, can be of any form, from animal, ancestor, to weather front, plant or tree, or indeed spirits that have no foundation in the physical world at all.

Many allies in the Celtic tradition are Faerie allies, and the influence of the Faery tradition and ancient Faerie beliefs in the British Isles shouldn't be underestimated. Indeed there are clues going back thousands of years that the Faerie races have played a massive part in shaping the tone and flavour of British and Irish spiritual practice, and the Faerie Faith as it is sometimes known, underpins much of our indigenous spiritual lore. Today Celtic shamanism also revives many of these ancient and largely forgotten or hidden practices, like a yew tree re-growing and finding renewal from its roots. As our modern culture is changing, more and more genuine seekers are discovering the bones of our indigenous spirituality and are re-membering and reclaiming the remaining knowledge of our old ways so that having survived the lean times Celtic shamanism is once again finding renewal and being practiced by larger numbers than it has for centuries.

The mythical Milesian shaman-druid Amergin, used shape shifting and an invocation of his allies as the spirit of Ireland in the famous 'Song of Amergin' in which he defeated the old gods, the Tuatha de Danann in order for the Milesians to invade and begin the mortal human period of Irelands history, mythologically recorded as 1268 BCE.. The Dananns in turn retreated to the Otherworld, to become the Faery race, known in Ireland as the Sidhe. The 'Song' was written down in the 9th century as part of the Lebor Gaballa Erenn, the Irish 'Book of Invasions' although it is likely to be far older. It is thought to have been recorded from the oral tradition where it was known in proto-goidelic as a fragmented form of an even older magical spell which went back an additional thousand years, and maybe even further

Years after the Tuatha Dé Danann establish their kingdom in Éire, a new invasion takes place. The elders talk about the Milesians, the first Gaelic people who put a foot in that island.
Amergin was his leader; he was the dreamer, the wisdom one, a Bard, a Druid, a man of the forest and knowledge.

Re: THE IRISH TOPIC

Oh some wonderful posts yesterday, it was lovely to read Tony's story, shades of Don Juan, such a confirmation of the beauty of Jacques and what a loss his death is. The experience is still obviously crystal clear in your mind Tony. Thank you too for describing your thoughts and intentions as you pour, if it's alright with you I'd love to share the idea of the Blue Bubble onto some of the Plasterite pages? I'll read it closely and it will help my and other pourers' focus very much I'm sure.

Also love the post about Shamanism, having done a Shaman course last year, it resonated with me very much.

I don't know how many people participated in the affirmation session last evening, but at the start I asked that anyone who had expressed an interest would be joined in, so I hope that helped. Let's keep it up and see how it goes. It seems as though you, Sunflower, have an affirmation almost complete, looking forward to that happening. In haste.

Re: THE IRISH TOPIC

yes it is J, it is regarding the affirmation group etc, in a way that s what I needed to focus my energy on so to speak like a mold to put it all in the vortex of the energy, its aim, it works very well for me like I have been waiting for something but don't know what it was this feels very good and am grateful you had the daring thought to come up with something like that we don't see that every day either like we are all little mirrors reflecting the good intention onto a central focus point with our individual intentions and it starts to melt and cook as we are all aimed at a central big mirror so it gets very strong , this sort of melting pot of power a gateway of all possibility

It is true that we miss Jacques, it also shows us a lot of how vital good information is and how we are in need for such information to be shared to the world to those who are fit to handle it and make good use of it. As honestly enough with his sharing and caring we would probably still be lost in the dark to some extent for sure. As we know know, there are more people, individuals, doing such work and having results but as we are just at the bottom of the system that information is unlikely to come out into all sorts of communities, etc. On the other hand for me in those days as a novice in this whole scala of working with these methods and their range and all it was mainly the examples and teachings of Stephen , you know, monsoon orgonite that kicked my but in finally starting putting two and two together, showing me the ropes as they say in English, making the whole "fuzzy healing talk information galore " digestible to the average Joe in a down to earth methodology. Although I could sense a lot inside about the exchanges that took place at that stage I could not make much of it , I knew not much in those days, naturally how could I ?

At least I could understand Stephen s feedback on the topic, his straightforward reports on the matter and so forth in his typical " Aussi fashion " hehehe

Yo...

Plasterite , just as other natural techniques mean healing, power, self reliance all things the system dont like us to have so the shooting down of the plaster even began before I became aware of it other topics like the life pillow were not even touched upon completely and that s even just the " outer shell" of plasterite there is so much more to it

I play with selenite for two years or the selenite is playing with me who knows as it keeps revealing secrets unknown to me all the time whenever I am ready for it every time a new door opens and you progress, change and move ahead it is Pandora's box , it keeps sharing and giving and it never exhausts it never deceives it just is it wont happen overnight, takes some time and effort to work with it , but it is not hard to do but you better not talk about that stuff to the TV people in these times of dis empowerment we need all the big toys in the arsenal of orgonite the little CB from the past just wont do it it is beyond that now but ears are closed and eyes don't want to see the obvious in plain view I for some reason became aware by intuition that such information is very rare to get hold of as it sometimes slips through the net / web...they cant control everything and when it does you have to catch it, grab it, secure it as soon it will be gone or distorted and so it was For personal convenience I thought it is practical to have some copies of that information, even in 2013 so for easier print up , sharing, mailing it to folk who might take an interest in it ,that sort of thing In my nativity I thought it would run forever One year later it was gone.

As this information is too valuable and too important , for sure in our times, as they blast the crap out of us no remorse there, to be held in the exclusive hands of a " healing elite " it had to be shared again after my FB experience got under fire and later on simply blocked I had to come up with something new and by synchronicity I ended up here, as the old forum was also on such a framework PHP and had the same layout etc funny how it works out it just happens

so I re uploaded the material, most of it, half a year ago or something to this place here, the most important parts those that could be retrieved anyway, will slow down, hopefully , from now on, untill spring LOL third attempt....wink wink ps opened up the shop you might need to add some details there

I ll shut up now hehehe all the best

AHO!!!!!!!!!!

I made contact with Lady Catherine yesterday. The last we saw each other or talked was after Jacques funeral service. She had called me a couple of days after the service, so that I might consider returning to Asheville to rescue Jacques dog Shima Girl. Shima is a mix between Pit Bull and Dalmatian, and was rescued from the shore of the French Broad River, after some heavy flooding back in 2000. She was nothing but skin and bones, but Jacques had her healthy in no time. Upon my return to Asheville to get her, I noticed her ribs were sticking out and she was very weak. She had bleeding ulcers on her underside, eventually getting her some surgery after they found Cancer in her breast area. Shima Girl now has six kids and one grand child to watch over, and she is deliriously HAPPY most moments!

Catherine mentioned it had been a very tough couple of years, I know she went through quite a bit while Jacques was sick... he fought her tooth and nail in his determination to battle the cancer through alternative methods.

Her painting of the plasterite was always my very favorite thing to behold. The Energy of the Creations was always awesome. By naming and painting each piece, they "seemed" to take on a Life of their own.... literally!

What I would share today is something Josh and I discussed at length in our never ending quest to find better ways to Create, and better ways to use what Nature has provided us with.... So in that vain, one thing my dear friend was always fascinated with, was the occurrence of the Fibonacci sequence in Nature. He would find pine cones and put them in his plasterite. He would use the caps from acorns too! Together, we had studied and marveled at different possibilities with utilizing the benefits of CSE.... or Cavity Structural Effect. A bee hive is the best example of CSE. But you can find that even a small acorn cap could produce the same effect. And when placed within the plasterite Creation, I could feel the CSE acting like a carrier wave, for the highly structured Energy from the plasterite! Amazing!

We always looked for help from Nature. One of the last things we were attempting to do, was to map out the Ley Lines in and around his property. Since these lines make up part of the Earth Grid, my thought was to use this "information highway" that held things together, and to basically bum a ride upon it! LOL So in theory, we find our Ley Line on our own property, through dowsing, and we find what I will call a Node, or Energy Center on the line. It would be THERE, that we would imagine placing our Creation, and instructing it to FILL the Earth Grid with it's higher vibrational frequencies.... Still on the draft board of things to do....

The other network we discussed that we might be able to tap into, is..... The Trees!

Trees are Natural Orgone generators. In the right Light and circumstances, with the Sun behind a tree, you can see the Energy coming off of the tree, like a huge wooden antenna, broadcasting LIFE everywhere. Their roots often mingle and touch, they communicate in ways we are only starting to understand. Hugging trees is but one method of "feeling" something special from them. In thought, we would place our Creation within a hole or indentation of the tree, or simply put it near the base.... burying the piece would also work, but we might consider putting it in something water proof like a zip lock bag, depending on how large the piece is.... Probably perfect for some of the smaller molds we used, especially the molds...

In our various Creations, we often would "listen" to any suggestions that might pop in. In my making organite and plasterite, I would often use Essential Oils, Frankincense and Myrrh, in their gum form, even specially charged water or ORMUS. The fun part was sometimes, the additions made the Creation cure haphazardly, with lots of holes and irregularities! All part of the learning curve for us. Like Emoto, we would label either the water or plaster of paris, or both! The WORD is power itself, and can enjoin frequency to matter.

In closing, we often discussed and thought about exactly what we were trying to do with our Creations. We not only wished to have clear blue skies, but we wished to heal and help everything that lived, between us and sky. Everything that lived IN the sky. So we also wished to include healing frequencies to be broadcast as well. Keshe, the Iranian scientist that is taking the world by storm with his free energy systems, has introduced us to concepts of nano coating and GANS. Mayhap we may see even more cross polarization with his technology and ours? Itching to make some of his GANS and include it in some Creations! Check out some of the videos that are now out using his tech, there are pain pens and caps, and even coils being used in cars....

So many possibilities.....

Blessings and HUGS!!!!!!!!!!!!!!

hehehehe Jenny said I d be surprised so I did follow her suggestion to take a look and yes

I do admit, hehheeh, totally flattened , I am not easily flattened , ultimately impressed but I am now LOL

Truly amazing

Good work Tony

Sunshine runs out of words very fast today

also something we havent seen much of before!!!

didnt even know it was possible just ..shines...in gratitude speechless, smiling

I do feel humble now and proud to say so and that is very good

Very nice of you to share all this as Jen says, everything you say and do is significant and beautiful

Aho!

Many, many thanks to Jenny Martel and Sunshine for "finding" me, and bringing me back into the fold, so to speak....

As I mentioned to Jenny earlier, the itch is becoming almost irresistible at this point, to get some things together and start pouring again!! And that, makes me infinitely HAPPY! I've lots of ideas that have been percolating around in my head for the last couple of years, but alas, my friend and mentor was no longer around to bounce them off, sadly. Perhaps with your permission and blessings, we can share together, here?

IF I was to start pouring today, I would really sit and think for just a few moments about what I've both read and learned these last few years.

Off the cuff, here is my list of what I might need or include in such an endeavor....

Plaster

New molds (anything goes!)

Sand (white if possible)

Charged Water (using any of numerous ways)

Essential Oils (Rose, Eucalyptus, Orange and Camphor)

Charcoal (ground, like you can buy at aquarium store)

Sprouts / Seeds / Sea Shells / Pine Needles, Cones, & Resin / Acorns Amber Resin / Frankincense Resin / Myrrh Resin Big roll of Copper wire, either #18 or #24 gauge for coils Small roll of .9999 Silver wire for wrapping of Crystals Various small and large Crystals, Lemurian preferred but most anything will do...
Package of Bamboo Skewers (8 inches or longer) Toy Plasma Ball with blue tooth or audio input Healing frequency audio files Bag of Kelp or Seaweed Bag of Native American Organic Tobacco Colloidal or Nano Silver

And last but certainly not least.....

Some Holy Water!

As you can see, I've got lots of ideas and possibilities with all of these different components. Not everything in this list might be used or incorporated into the Creation.

So you may ask, what the hell is LOL

I'll start with some of the non standard items, just to give you an idea of why I included them.

Bag of bamboo skewers. I discovered, quite by accident, with Josh, that wood can and does transmit frequencies, very well! So the story is this.... we had done some shopping together, and we found a local craftsman that created wood goblets. So, we had him to make 3. After they came, based on their size and shape, Josh decided to fill in the bottom portion with some orgonite, Josh style. After filling the cups for a toast, and at the time, I was drinking lots of soda, I noticed that after my initial sip, that the soda was still fizzing away. In fact, the soda did NOT stop fizzing, until ALL of the fizz went away. So I tried to recreate the effect, measuring the cup diameter, length, etc.... I tried using only the orgonite with the granite chunks in it, small reaction, but no. I tried various other cup sizes and arrangements of stones and crystals, nada. Then I got a brilliant idea, and decided to cut a handy dandy skewer to the exact length of the cup, and I put this single skewer into a glass, filled with soda. It fizzed like crazy and didn't stop!! Aha and AHO! So, we can cut them to specific lengths so that they might act as an antenna of sorts....

Toy Plasma Ball with Blue Tooth. I have one for Healing usage. Yep! Paired it to my laptop. Running a program called Apollo on it. Bought some healing frequencies from Sound of Stars website. Play them through the Plasma Ball, while touching it, so that the Plasma is the carrier for the frequencies. Silly strong and powerful! Frequencies from this site sound like three cats, a pit bull, and some yarn dipped in Scotch, all decided to have a party..... black boards and finger nails ain't got nothing on these... but OH MY! Would use this to encode frequencies into something else on my list! Either the Essential Oils or Charged Water, perhaps!

For those familiar with Josh's Life Pillows, then the Kelp / Seaweed / Tobacco will make some sense to you....

I could go on and on, but I hope you get the idea, that I don't think outside the box, there is no box! LOL

Having poured hundreds of Creations, I know when playing with Charged Water, you have to expect the unexpected. So in that vain, I might also borrow one of my girlfriends little dram size perfume samplers, empty it, and put something special, like the Charged Water, or Essential Oils, or any combo of, inside, so it doesn't make the curing go nuts....

More later, but at work now, so have to pretend I'm doing that.... too!

Blessings and HUGS!

Re: THE IRISH TOPIC

Aho!

Yes Jenny, perhaps after the Holidays have passed! LOL

After posting that, a few other items popped in, that I would include....

Neodymium Magnets (can be the tiny size, we are looking to establish / regulate our EMF through the crystal / crystalline matrix we Create in our pouring)

Honey (wild flower is best, Manuka is second best)

Maple Syrup (the higher the grade the better)

So, with any of the fluid items I have mentioned, one drop is sufficient, but you can always dowse to find your optimum mixture. By dowsing, I mean that you might use a pendulum, if that is what you are familiar or comfortable with, or you might consider simply using your own body through muscle testing. I use the finger method. So, you hold one hand with forefinger and thumb closed in a circle, you take your index finger from the other hand, and you ask..... and then try to pull the two fingers apart. For me, if they fly apart, that is a NO. If they get firm and strong, inseparable, that is a YES! Ask if I should use One drop... If yes, then ask, if I should use Two drops! Stop when you get a NO, and go back to previous YES! TRUST your body and muscles!!!!!!

We, saying that for myself and my Creation Group Above, wish you to realize how amazing POWERFUL we are, and by COMMANDING our Creations to OBEY our COMMANDS implicitly, we are not Tyrants, but focused and purposeful, Creators!

The Rose Oil, and the Rose itself, is believed to embody the Highest Vibrational level of all living matter. I think it is around 320Hz in frequency! We operate so much lower.... I am currently harvesting rose buds and making Rose Essential Oils, from them! I've planted twelve rose bushes over the last three years at our new home, and I'm taking the fresh blooms off of every color imaginable! More failures than success, until this last batch. But that's is how I learn, through experimenting.

No frustration or harm, simply trying what comes in....

I can't recommend enough for consideration something that was shared with me recently. I've bought both a Humidifier/Mister and a LED fogger barebones, to inundate my household with micro sized water / Essential Oil combination. Using either with Essential Oils, is lifting and clearing our entire house, on the most basic but profound levels.... Limone, Tea Tree Oil, Camphor, Turpentine, and Frankincense combined, possibly, can clear your home and living space, of ALL negative energy manifestations, whether critter, bug, or bacteria / viral assortments... Nano size of the water particles and Essential Oils, allow greater the area saturation! Effectively dealing with the changes in size and toxicity of the current exposures.

Much Love and Big Hugs to the Group!!!

Tony

Re: THE IRISH TOPIC

Winter is a good time to reflect on the past and inner thoughts to put them into the right perspective. For some mysterious reason I have trialed most of the mentioned things , not in that depth as mentioned here under the right circumstances and objectives, but I crawled into most of it and must confess these helpers are powerful.

Benefactors.

Unfortunately I did not have the benefit of having such wonderful mentors to move concepts in such effective ways as Tony has been fortunate to be given.

As in my case it is a purely grassroots story without any previous knowledge or expectations that also has its upsides too as one is not limited in thought so breakthroughs can be achieved under the right circumstances having the right attitude still rather fast although one has to deal with such topics in a focused manner , seriously that means and ready to take a step back once in a while listen to intuition, to what the selenite " says" it does have a consciousness it has a very strong notable consciousness the most hard thing to do , as far as I can tell , was going over the threshold as one soon finds out or becomes aware of that consciousness that's just a word

maybe " presence" is a better word it's there

it's just there ready for interaction

but actually going into that interaction was for me the hardest thing to do to really , how to put it, open up to nature to those energies there selenite is unbelievable stuff once you connect to it are ready to interact with it

Steve, the dowser from the org forum, did a whole topic on that he mentioned to me he is very happy about your wonderful stories , Tony.

Re: Plaster organite

by Steve »

I could be waaay off as well as no dowsing is perfect but I am getting pretty close to the same on that reading Josh. As always the proof will be in the pudding! Everyone's results do sound very encouraging so far. As Josh has said before Selenite is the primary ingredient in Plaster so this info is pertinent in what we see/feel with Plasterite:

"Selenite is a type of gypsum crystal that is often either transparent or a shimmering opaque. This versatile and often underrated crystal has properties that make it truly unique for spiritual and metaphysical purposes.

Selenite is the only crystal that is able to clear and recharge other crystals. If a piece of selenite is placed in contact with another crystal, such as a quartz crystal, it will cleanse away any negative energies within that crystal.

Another unique thing about selenite is its ability to constantly cleanse and recharge itself. The only other crystal with the known ability to do this is apophyllite.

As with crystals such as quartz, fluorite and calcite, selenite is especially beneficial for activating the seventh or crown chakra. Selenite is also good for stimulating and opening the third eye chakra.

With its unique ability to filter out confusing or ego-based messages in the mind, selenite is an excellent crystal to work with while meditating. Place one nearby while you meditate or hold a piece in your hand to help keep your mind clear, lucid and calm.

Selenite can also help you get in touch with your higher self and expand the awareness of your mind and spirit. For this reason it can be good to use during prayer, communicating with the wisdom of angels and astral projection.

Because of its ability to calm and clear the mind, it can be good to keep selenite with you during times of emotional stress.

Other spiritual and metaphysical properties associated with selenite include: Psychic awareness and development

Channeling

Awareness of past lives Improved concentration Aura cleansing

Access to one's personal power stones.

You can greatly increase any other crystal or stone energy by pointing your Selenite Wand at the other stone.

Reprogramming is done this way.

Just visualize how you want the energy of your Quartz crystal or other stone to perform.

Spirit Guides, Angels, Higher Beings can all be more easily contacted using a Selenite Wand. Access your subconscious as well. These wands are very potent. Selenite provides a bridge to other worlds.

Selenite is often used for clarity of mental processes.

It was the original record keeping stone in Atlantean and Lemurian times.

Using the same rubbing technique as for Past Lives, ask your Selenite for passage to particular areas of knowledge. Many times that knowledge is given to you in dreaming or while astral traveling.

When using your Selenite Wand in any of these ways or to amplify healing, make certain you use your inner powers to wipe clean the energy that has been placed into the Selenite.

Superior for psychic development and intuitive processes. A growing number of readers are finding Selenite more useful and manageable than Quartz Crystal. Quartz has that uncompromising habit of amplifying everything, positive or negative.

As a bridge to altered states of consciousness, Selenite is an excellent tool for visualization, meditation and working with the subconscious.

Selenite Goes to the source of physical disorders and provides insights into probable causes. Outstanding as a journeying tool for Shamans. Its unique ability to connect and balance the Spiritual and Physical bodies enables Selenite to do similar work between two persons. Working with the subtle bodies Selenite pushes one to the area most in need of clearing and balancing. Its power in working with all of the chakras makes Selenite a universal healing implement.

Selenite is not like any other healing stone or wand that focuses its particular energy on a problem. Selenite works like a tuner on a radio to discover locations of static in the aura. As your own awareness grows so will your use of this mystical mineral.

Because of this ability to flow light into all situations coupled with its physical structure it is an ideal wand making material. The energy flow is an ideal carrier of the energies of other crystals added to the wands."

So the above may explain some of what we experience with Plasterite.

Blessings

Steve

trying to grasp why it is so powerful , why it does what it does and he went into the aspects of the selenite itself in a good deep way the word " spiritual" came on the screen multiple times and I thought, even before I really worked with it, yep , he got it, jackpot that s it it is really funny in a way how often I was grasping things by intuition when my mind said no , that cant be trying to put a lid on it right away the mind tried to lock me into this world purely whereas the intuition , gained so much strength and trust with the working with this natural method it sort of had to break through sooner or later and it did after some initial hurdles.
The German mentioned that once too , right from the start, not with many words, but to make me more aware there is a much bigger picture going on when one start connecting, tapping, dealing with the natural world around us in the way we prefer to do using those techniques.
Even Jacques when reading the old topics did touch on that a couple of times, this " asking" it to work in the way we want it to work to do its best , etc, he also said make sure on one watches when you do it hehehe I knew all this but I still somehow refused to do it, in other words, refused to accept it as a form of reality but it should and must be done, it should be treated with respect just be genuine and you ll get genuine results it is very straightforward but we are the problem, hahaha but we manage well once opened up to it dont know exactly what held me back , was it previous indoctrination, some sort of ego thing , fear, fear of going over the threshold fear of interacting with it instead of just using it but there was something but that was overcome after a while and results showed clearly Over the course of the last years things have revealed themselves and proven to be true meaning Jacques was light years ahead of his time as simple as that but the only way for me in this case to find out is go that route myself and see what shows up and it has turned out to be right and truthful simply by doing the work, the experiments, the serious amount of energy and time invested in understanding it as much as possible and so one grows and sees more when you deal with this natural method one has one foot in this world and one foot in another could talk for days about this , but ...on another note... when I was on FB I did meet some interesting characters and he somehow came up with the idea of pine cones he also tried other materials but they were not so suited I have been employing pine cones ever since regularly they do work very well like the sea shells but different milder, softer in tone but very pleasant might be suitable more to certain persons or objectives the strongest output of almost pure energy one gets using the homeopathic method combined with sea shells and no other big ingredients, no gemstones, no crystals, no nothing just that as he mentioned later on, skipping the physical crystals sea weed can be added whether natural or what I prefer " dried" , the powder that is used to enhance garden soil.

will make any bovis scale explode hahaha any bovis chart whatsoever bizarre
I just use the basic homeopathic method just crystals of all sizes , sorts in water just the water
Others used more advanced methods by also using other materials or their attributes Strange to say today I collected pine cones

I know too silly for words but it is the dorky truth synchronicity who knows haven't done that in a long time and whoops suddenly the topic is mentioned above coincidence
I don't know what are the odds

There are other ways of creating natural life force energy , they do work , but they are different as they omit the spiritual field for a great part, still they can be very nice and worthwhile, they do also contribute to the blue sky that has become a rarity in this world but when it comes to sheer power combined with the spiritual connection I have not been able to come up with something stronger than the plasterite.

Still we are on a search for truth as that's one of our main drives here so we don't rule out anything without giving it the benefit of the doubt and do at least some experimentation with it. Working towards a freedom not towards a new tyranny.

I never doubted Jacques, never, I am however very skeptical so the only way to find out is do it ourselves so I did as simple as that, there was never any real doubt because one can recognize people by what they DO not just by what they say.

Their behavior, how they proceed, what they have to put up with once they go against the status quo.

There is a much deeper story to this all but for now, yes he wanted to give it to us, that was a main reason to teach us something, learning us the ropes of totally new ways of bringing this good energy into our grasp to do good work and so much more

Rose oil, what's stated here about it is true

I do agree completely, very good to use, but high grade can be expensive so best to follow guidelines here and just use a minute amount, in drops, that's sufficient.

Thank you for sharing the dowsing method, again, it does work, one needs a bit of practice but it can be useful

Jacques sometimes mentioned something about awareness of nature things like that things I eagerly glossed over in the past as my perception at that early stage could not manage or deal with such information yet.

It can deal with it now and it is all true.

He also mentioned, in regard to the life pillow formulae, I think only to MG, as he posted that once on FB when newcomers asked about that on how to make these life pillows, the resin flavor.

He said American Tobacco would work very well too and he asked Stephen to maybe look into that in Australia with the natives there if they had such sort of plants too that might be of use.

When it comes to the quantities of material types involved one might catch on to the fact it is an exact replication of this planet the way it is built. The life pillow is never really far away from me

It is always with me, in different shapes or forms

WHAT ARE POLARIZERS?

Polarizers are antennas that attract amplified chi (life -force) energy which originates from Universal Source. This energy bombards the earth plane at a 45 degree angle and is the sustenance of life. Polarizers are the formulation of just the right mixture of plants and minerals which are considered to be the attracting factor of the Polarity devices. This formulation remains proprietary for the benefit of humanity. Chi energy is cosmic radiation which is beneficial to all forms of life.

The principle action of Polarizers is to bring into balance all energy fields thus creating a harmonious living environment . Some harmonious have called this measurement of chi the wavelength of "OM". This beneficial wavelength has been found throughout the universe and may be considered one of the cosmic constants of life support. How do polarity products work? They are energy attractors which polarize the energy fields that produce negative toxic effects. An energy spin surrounds the smallest particles. In the northern hemisphere, the spin should be in a clock-wise direction.

When a substance is toxic or damaged, that healthy spin is reversed. By polarizing the toxic or damaged substance , it is no longer detrimental to the environment or the physical body. According to Sir Lawrence Bragg, Nobel Prize Winner, "life on the planet can be described as oriented to the right, and man is like a 'right handed cork-screw'. Any 'left-handed cork-screw orientation would be poisonous to him."

Dr. Rueben states, "that a compound with the same formula can be poisonous if the polarization is to the left and non-poisonous if the polarization is to the right. Thus , if you change the polarization of man made energy fields and the products produced by the machines that utilize this energy , toxins and dangerous by-products become harmless."

An example of counter-clockwise spin in nature are hurricanes and tornadoes. These forces are not in harmony with normal energy patterns , consequently creating catastrophic results. When an injury occurs the electrons in the cells of the body spin chaotically, Diseases are the result of electrons chronically spinning counter- clockwise in the tissues of the body. By applying a polarizer over an injured area, the electrons are put back in order, allowing healing to take place . In case of a trauma , the quicker the application of the trauma, the quicker the results. What is the difference between Polarizers and magnets?

Magnets attract and create structured electromagnetic fields created by the north and south poles of the earth . Polarizers attract beneficial cosmic radiation or rays that originate from a higher dimension beyond the planet earth that influence the electromagnetic fields through the manipulation of the subtle energy fields.

WHAT DO THESE PRODUCTS DO?

- Neutralize harmful radiations (TV's, microwaves, computers and stray voltage power lines)
- Neutralize poisons in the environment as well as poisons from insects and snakes
- Purify tap water, enhancing the taste and softening the water without chemicals
- Detoxify foods, restoring natural flavor
- Preserve foods naturally, longer
- Reduce or eliminate harmful effects of chlorine, caffeine and tobacco
- Eliminate the use of pesticides and chemicals with plants and gardens and increase crop yield
- Reduce utility bills
- Non-chemical pest control
- Balances energy in the home and environment
- Produces fluorinating plants and gardens
- Polarizes and protects the body from toxins and allergens
- Creates a healing environment for cell tissues to restore their natural balance

- Helps relieve pain
- Helps emotional stability and well -being
- Increase personal and physical energy
- Soothes and relieves pain from burns
- Neutralizes toxic fumes and residuals from paint and household products

Stephen did an amazingly good post on

As far as I know there are not too many of those floating around , enough to keep us chewing for a while

Yes ... any quartz sand will work but beachsand (quartz type as on most Aussie beaches) seems the best as it's been charging up under the sun for millennia ,,,I collect from the tidal zone, that way you get a bit of salt with it too

The glowie stuff is just bling.....ignore that.....the energy of the life pillow and orgonite combo is multiplied... They offer EMF clean up as with orgonite, but the life pillow mix will clean up food , water, medications, smokes , alcohol, sometimes pain..., virtually everything...it changes the spin of anything harmful down to an electron level,,,,,,the result is tasty food and somewhat safer....mine are in use everyday...by my reckoning , worth their weight in gold.. !

Stephen Geddes The double dipping sealed in the pillow mix with a glass smooth finish... a couple of air bubbles can be filled in with a couple of drops of resin later.....concerning techniques...if you make the resin form of the Life Pillow , mix it quite thick and let sit for half hour or so before adding the hardener,,, it should be thick, just pourable...I add a wee bit more hardener as well ... must stir really thoroughly, even stirring between pours if doing more than one piece...let harden and double dip in the same moulds ... enjoy

Stephen Geddes Sheryll and Robert....I asked Josh at one stage , why use kelp seaweed and is there any other plants worth using...? His reply was that he'd tried quite a few energy plants with some varying success.... Apparently native american tobacco was one that worked quite well...some varieties of pine too....he suggested to enquire about the medicine plants of the original people of my area and trial them ,,... At the time ...ground kelp seaweed had the best results..

Anything that you can think of that be can a help for the highest ethics, gentleness, honesty, fair dealing, joy, all wonderful positive attributes that can be broadcasted with a stone, with a crystal (asking it to do that), or writing on paper (intent), you can put in the Plasterite, but know that you will be broadcasting sometime very far, and you must be certain that what you put in the Plasterite as well as the Orgonite, is exactly what you want

very enlighten being; wrap your Plasterite with a long electric cord, plug it, then put both hands on the wire coiled and pray, intent with as much feeling as you can.....

About the "living" being, well yes the Plasterite is a living being, very feminine in nature, it is not a lump of inanimate mater, you can go in and speak with her and ask what she like, she knows exactly what she want and will guide you if you ask.....a beautiful being.

Something that I have been doing with success: rather than using the crystals per say, I take all the crystals that I think can broadcast the appropriate characters, and I put them all in "pillowed " water, I live them in the sun all the time and when I make the Plasterite , I take 1/4 cup of that water and put it in the plaster water, this gives me an homeopathic kind of mixture stronger than the stones that I could put in it (just take a 1/2 gallon water jar, put your stones in it, and live them in the sun, they would likely be ready to use after one single afternoon in the sun, but I live them out all the time.

The pipe stone is truly from the blood of our ancestors from a long time ago, it is a long story, yes it is sacred, but I would not put it in to be broadcasted ,

heheheh, outstanding, I d say utterly sexy orgonite, whaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaa damn she is good....she is good

But I was already convinced since we saw her life pillows, those incredible polarizers

Why she is so insecure , ah help her out Jenn...help her out and so versatile....she has shown a lot in a short time span As long as folk are honest and truthful I dont care what they use at all As long as they strive towards honest goals they should use all tools of light they want But we are aware there are other forces at play too in communities controlling and pushing things, we are not part of that nor will take part in that Besides my opinion on those forces is clear enough by now so we dont have to touch on that again Have been rather blunt on that topic with good reason to avoid misunderstandings

And you know what, it does not matter, free methods can never be pushed out of the realm of possibilities of the searchers for truth.
Just wont happen, it is here to stay, regardless how much force and deception is used to crush it.
It wont happen.As you see we are still around so you see it wont happen as those special ones who trust their gut feeling, their inner knowledge will always come to this one way or another, it cant be stopped

As I am on my monomyth now I tend to be more silent more in the background trying to get more distance from the forum or such things also so much has already been saved from the " memory hole" as I call it that s bacially good enough and if new thoughts come in I do hop on it asap
that s great love it very grateful for Tony s contributions here Also nice to see or know I am on the right way with things even though I myself did not have any help, guidance or whatever most of the materials, thoughts, ideas came in by intuition, a special sort of knowing developes with the plasterite have seen that happen a lot with very aware folk who start dealing with it they come up with amazing stuff out of the blue by themselves often
it just happens
seen it so many times
For example Jacques was right with the way the life pillows can ben made and how they can change even by just slightly changing the quantities or materials used, funny enough DustSand did beat me on that one, he was faster than me but we both love to play with that it is so amazing
I went onto the road of truth only having Jacques information and thoughts , that s all there is to it and most things , some years ago, I had to find out for myself If you want to be a good violin player you have to practice a lot the same applies to the life force energy area you have to go that extra mile and , after that, go another three than results come in

We know things are not exactly rosy out there we know that

but there are so many more view on the totality of the matter that we need all input to balance it all out at least we are not stuck in a " pigeonhole" here that s maybe one of the most important things we see too much of that that we luckily dont see here all sorts of views and ideas are thrown on the deck here to deal with and make good use of I do support your work too Jenn, the Irish awareness , does that mean I jump on any bandwagon, no I will never jump on anything LOL
hahaha
you know what I mean it is good work and it should be continued even if those real movements are coming under more stress nowadays as we see all around us only " authorised" big controlled movements , those with strings to the top, are allowed so in that light your work is becoming even more important I think before the whole truth movement sings from the carbon credit worship agenda Have to smile a lot when I think of Lady Crystal, you know her such perfection just one line that says it all she is natural and untamed she is very intense too certainly not " socialized" yet
hahaha
hope she keeps that fire you have a gorgeous bunch around you Jenn, you are a very rich person hehehe

you are, we envy you you truly are

Thanks to Murielle for sharing

I feel the bite I feel the beat I see the dancing feet I feel the light I feel the heat I see the new elite I see the final floorshow I see the western dream I see the faces glow and I see the bodies steam

See them shimmy see them go See their painted faces glow
Slow slow quick quick slow
See those pagans go go go go go

Why, this is the floorshow the last ideal It's populist got mass appeal
The old religion redefined For the facile futile totally blind For the totally blind

Mundane by day inane at night Pagan playing in the flashing light In the violet hour to the violent sound Going round and around and around and around and around The bodies and the naked on the low damp ground In the violet hour to the violet sound And the darkness the blinding the eyes that shine And the voices singing line on line

See their painted faces glow

Slow slow quick quick slow
See those pagans go go go go go

Remember beautiful Jenn without you this could all never have happened.

Keep that in mind

We would all be ...lose cannons....shooting at the stars with some effect for sure absolutely

but you do have this talent of dealing with different types of folk so they interact exchange knowledge and views bundly the energy so to say get brighter and better we thank you for that Jenn one way or another we have to make the best of this I wont bow my head wont happen

It just wont happen to any force that once to take over the world for " the greater good"
IT WONT HAPPEN
We have to fight this all with love and purity from the heart not by ignorance of the dark but by working with it in a way stablilzing it like the Cherokee story the white and the black wolf one of many attributes of selenit is it make you know yourself very clearly know thyself so important the biggest enemy we face we see every day in the mirror wolves.jpg (54.61 KiB) Viewed 225 times as all cons and mechanisms are based on that not on the control grid itself for that matter that more like the fuel for it, it lures us into it as only people who do not live their life can be controlled as simple as that

. Imagine that the dog Shima is still alive, at least 15 years old!

is Shima still around??
Are you sure ?

must be an old dog than hahaha

Here is how my dog Shima came to me:

It was about 6 years ago after a terrible storm*, where lots of roads were washed out and many houses were floated, the day after I went outside to inspect the damage and here is that dog: skin and bones, all white except for a big black eye, at the time I had a cat also white.

Not knowing too much what to do, I fed the dog some cat food, went out to get her some real dog food, and the next few days were spent asking the entire neighborhood who she belong to, but no one knew anything about her.

She stayed and was most welcome, after she had been there for couple of weeks, I was in the kitchen cooking something, all the doors of the house were opened (good weather), remember that there is no one where I live, I am basically alone, all of the sudden I hear "my" dog screaming, as if someone is hurting her in a bad way, I say to myself "no one is going to hurt my dog", grab my staff and I was going to make some dents on some body, I am outside in less then 20 seconds: there is nothing no dog, look down the driveway, nothing, the way the land and driveway are no one can hide, everything can be seen , look for a while: no dog.

So I thought she will be back tonight, no one came back, for two weeks she was gone, I thought she might have found her way back where she came from, but she showed up 14 days later, with something unusual: on the top of her head there was a perfect round spot of about one and a half inch in diameter, that had been shaved, the skin was totally visible, no more hair, perfectly circular

So right away I put a big neo magnet on the spot just in case....

To this day I still do not know what could have happen

Josh

*I knew this storm was coming for about a week, and at the time a big branch had fallen on the roof and I had a hole in it, no time for real repair, so I made a few large Orgonite devices and place them all around the house, as a result everything 1/4 mile pass my house (all around) was trashed, houses, bridges, roads, trees, a big mess, nothing at the house, no rain, when all around was a total hurricane.

Wow Josh...straight out of science fiction movie . !

Lucky you are Awake !

Did you look up ?

Beam me up Scotty. ha ha

So , the dog become game player. The tech used is almost unimaginable . Yet its real !

Everyone... take care.. the pace quickens.

I feel GOOD knowing you are riding on top of the wave.

Bummer...I've been shut out of Warrior Matrix.

I guess it's a case of join the ongoing list...eh ?

A bit sad as I feel I made a few friends there, sharing Techniques that work . Totally enjoyed contributing.. !

The worst part is, I can't even say..... GOODBYE FRIENDS.

Yo Stephen, not to worry, lots of those banned people have found their way here on our forum, so you can say "Hello" here

Those that come here are the one that are not stuck in a single modality, the folks here want to evolve pass the norm and experiment to come up with better ideas, and we do do just that; experiment, improve, experiment, improve on and on

Our focus is not to post any old place, so to have our store site shown every time that we post; we are to create changes, from a mentality that dwells in the basement to one that is living on the platform of the highest ethics, and we need no guns and uglyzzz to do that, just tweaking the existing frequency/reality.

We also do not need This Krilian photography to tell us that our stuff work So all is well

Wow Josh,

I am very glad your dog came home and came through whatever it was OK. Hmmm, very wierd stuff. I know you're keeping your eyes open, eh?

BTW, that is one lucky dog . What does Shima mean?

Stay well,

Shima, if I remember correctly , is the name of one of the deity in India

I am so glad to care for that dog, I know without a doubt she would give her life for Catherine or my self, so she has 100 acres to run and play (not all mine) she is kept inside with us in the winter and or summer and I am giving her the best life I can. She has very short hair and get cold quickly, and when inside in the winter she hug that wood stove, she is, from what the vet told me, 1/2 pit bull and 1/2 dalmatian

Re: THE IRISH TOPIC

Very kind words thank you Sunflower

I suppose you noticed that Murielle's orgonites are 'combos' - selenite inside resin (just in case anybody don't realize that).

This is copied from the Plasterite Affirmation Group page : I'm starting to remind people interested of our 'date' for Sunday, 7 p.m. Irish time. Can we return to the lovely affirmation written by Tony Geron for Sunday which is:

'I wish to see an end to geo-engineering, a return to blue skies, a boost to plasterite/selenite all over the world to achieve this. I call for the HELP of the Elemental Kingdom, for it is their Home as well. In particular, I will Call upon, the Cloud Nation, The Over Soul of the Wild Geese, the Sylphs of the Air, and the All of the Fairy Realm, to Honor and Assist our Prayers, Intentions and Affirmations of Transformation, Elimination, and Purification of our Beloved Earth, Skies and Waters, in our Unity of Love, our Community of Respect. So Mote It Be! AHO!'

Please set your alarms for Sunday. AHO! and HUGS!

A suggestion from our friend Sunflower, if we have it, to hold a piece of plasterite in our hands as we make the affirmation, now why didn't I think of that?

We're going round in beautiful little circles, Ray W saw your collection of his work today and asked me to share them onto his DOR-GONE page, to some nice comments.

I'm attaching a good explanation Tony G gave today of his phrase AHO! after being quizzed by Lady Crystal who was afraid it was linked to the 'Ho! Ho! Ho!' of Santa (Saturnalia) lol. Good she's reassured.

Tony says 'Simply, I used AHO as a greeting.... It comes from the Lakota Sioux Native American Indians, and is part of a larger saying.... Aho Mitakuye Oyasin! I'll post the meaning of that below, for it is pretty awesome! smile emoticon

Unlike · Reply · 1 · 8 hrs

Tony Geron

Tony Geron Aho Mitakuye Oyasin... All my relations. I honor you in this circle of life with me today. I am grateful for this opportunity to acknowledge you in this prayer...

To the Creator, for the ultimate gift of life, I thank you.

To the mineral nation that has built and maintained my bones and all foundations of life experience, I thank you.

To the plant nation that sustains my organs and body and gives me healing herbs for sickness, I thank you.

To the animal nation that feeds me from your own flesh and offers your loyal companionship in this walk of life, I thank you.

To the human nation that shares my path as a soul upon the sacred wheel of Earthly life, I thank you.

To the Spirit nation that guides me invisibly through the ups and downs of life and for carrying the torch of light through the Ages. I thank you.

To the Four Winds of Change and Growth, I thank you.

You are all my relations, my relatives, without whom I would not live. We are in the circle of life together, co-existing, co-dependent, co-creating our destiny. One, not more important than the other. One nation evolving from the other and yet each dependent upon the one above and the one below. All of us a part of the Great Mystery.

Thank you for this Life.

Aho Mitakuye Oyasin is a simple yet profound statement. It comes from the Lakota Nation and means all my relations. It is spoken during prayer and ceremony to invite and acknowledge all relatives to the moment.

To most of us today, relative means a blood relation or another human in the family lineage. We have not been taught that an entity, other than human, could be a relative. Understanding this simple statement and contemplating it, could change your outlook on life forever. If you love and honor your relatives, you would be loving and honoring most of what is on this earth, if you lived by this meaning of "relative." What a different world we would be living in!

Sit with this statement, see the Truth in it. Everything is related because it all emanates from one source and has purpose. Truth can be found in Native philosophy, Buddhism, Christianity, Judaism, Islam, all belief systems, because they are all related. I have studied Buddhism and found Christ. I have studied Native philosophy and found Buddha. I have studied Mother Nature and found self.

Truth does not owe homage to humans. Humans owe homage to Truth.

Aho!

Yes the smilies are hilarious.

combo pieces eh ?

champions

During the session it were new pieces I made , they have finally hardened now put them on the stove for a week and as light as a feather and strong as a bull have you read Tony's story J ? There is so much in it Maybe you can sort of filter out some topics and put in on a sheet for your future workshops for easier teaching etc I fully stand to his story , that is the way it is although I could never explain it that clearly good communicator too took me two years to understand that, just that part of it the bigger picture

I think our modern disconnection from nature has a lot to do with it, most of us being so detached etc on purpose yes the last thing they want us to find is truth Have had one experience that was a good resemblance of what Tony had in Jacques garden, this sudden implosion of knowledge, awareness, this connection to totality Happened during my gifting trips on the battlefields Needed two days to recover from that shredding reality
it is not for everyone but once you "break through" so to speak so in that sense this natural powerful method can be used as a lever to kick you out this reality, but never completely you always keep one foot in this reality and it does not necessarily take huge amounts of these tools of light funny enough I had almost nothing with me just a bag of plaster hearts go figure....

but something happened on the hill must have done something right I guess hard to explain but I know the way now to open the door when I want to but I don't have to , it is very powerful so I use it seldom only when I want to when I am ready to the bigger truth may not always work but nice results do show up always if done with the right intent I don't know the English word for it we call it " onberispelijk" an English word would be like " immaculate" or irreproachable in your intentions , not just intentions, it is more than just that, it is the way you go about while preparing, while you do the thing Tony describes as that's what I did, a year ago and be irreproachable that's why I have good results away from residential areas where it is easier to do that without being distracted or disturbed the holding of tools of lights, in my case, is just a method to make it easier to slip into the stream it helps me like the natives use their tools, like the pipe, certain herbs, etc, I don't have that so I have to be creative, works too

just as well

Re: THE IRISH TOPIC

Lovely post thanks Sunflower. 'Impeccable' may be the word you're looking for. The experience on the battlefields obviously was a strong one for you, your third eye may have opened, or your healing potential got a sudden boost? It's still only tickling my forehead a bit

There are indeed great suggestions in Tony's posts. And I'm smiling when I think of how !/we try to pare things down to the 'Bare Essentials' But I do encourage people to bring their essences or essential oils, or shells. I'd never be able to sense the different results. But at the last workshop it was fascinating listening to Mark and Su two homeopaths holding different bottles of crystallized water and comparing the different energies coming from them, like two wine connoisseurs

And actually agreeing with each other.

Re: THE IRISH TOPIC

Will submerge myself into a creative challenging experience today yep

did some preparation too looking up designs, thinking about something with cherry blossom very minimalistic but effective, I hope....

and...if it all fails, good chance...

...just hmm use white paint and paint it over and start again

Lots of helicopter visits must be that three in one broadcaster pumping all the time will do the affirmation moment tonight

my little time in the week , call it what you like, call it this or that but it works for me maybe post some ideas on what to accomplish maybe I am overestimating myself on the creative level but I ll give it a try trial and error lots of errors probably maybe a little success too we will see

maybe will use the bottle trick, will use smaller bottles for that not the 2 liter ones you know....
just like NASA
if you cant make it fake it

It went better than expected rather pleased with the result not too bad for a first time painting never done this before

Used water based acrylic paint

For the tree just a sort of dark grey black mixed with water to get shadow effects like you get on thick branches of trees

For the Blossom
I mixed midly three colors fluor pink, violet, and silver they were not thoroughly mixed so every time you put your brush in you get different effects, color shades like in nature

Has to dry now , let s see how it ends up until now it looks nice to me

Phase II

the little ones also undergo treatment one big one to go

maybe best to keep them in the same setup, feels good enough to me like an avenue of cherry blossom

Those painted cones are so lovely Sunflower, yes probably a good idea to continue with that oriental cherry blossom theme - 'Sakura' as it's known in Japan . You should have no difficulty in getting them into shops or offices (apart from taking your courage in your hands). They should really be sold as works of art. May I suggest putting those photos onto the 'Boutique'?

it works out great it really does there is something to it I cant explain properly but it helps a lot Hope the others get something out of it too you are a great asset to all of this we all play our part in this you bring out the best in people Tony is also a great help in that effort giving great advice and insight well as you see , the artwork also is good on smaller pieces I used a lot of the surface if you go for the fibonacci measurement one could use only 1 third of the area and leaving 2 thirds open that creates a stronger contrast and balance ah well maybe we can do that also, the energy pieces you have given as trials to shops , can I put those there too?

That one third and two thirds sounds like the artist's dream, the Golden Mean. If you think the photos are good enough please add them. We need to have a 'catalogue'

Why can't I download your photos, I'd love to share them to some of the Plasterite pages?

May I suggest putting those photos onto the 'Boutique'?

ah you can do this Aine, just follow intuition or , if no pep talk helps, use a stencil

you can do this even better for me it is just an example to show possibilities that s all...creativity...in worst case just paint it over you can try maybe something Irish hehehe....or a ..haiku..

on a side note here, lost the book, but fortunately, just could conveniently login to <http://www.LuLu.com>, the book site, was enough to re-download the book, very fancy in my opinion, how often we misplace a book and never find it again or the dog has its mysterious ways or the coffee can hits jackpot, etc

Guth An Anam (Voice of the soul)

Newgrange (Irish: Sí an Bhrú)[1] is a prehistoric monument in County Meath, Ireland, located about one kilometre north of the River Boyne.[2] It was built during the Neolithic period around 3000 BC to 2500 BC,[3][4] making it older than Stonehenge and the Egyptian pyramids.[

Once a year, at the winter solstice, the rising sun shines directly along the long passage, illuminating the inner chamber and revealing the carvings inside, notably the triple spiral on the front wall of the chamber. This illumination lasts for about 17 minutes.[5] Professor M. J. O'Kelly was the first person in modern times to observe this event on 21 December 1967.[28] The sunlight enters the passage through a specially contrived opening, known as a roofbox, directly above the main entrance. Although solar alignments are not uncommon among passage graves, Newgrange is one of few to contain the additional roofbox feature; (Cairn G at Carrowkeel Megalithic Cemetery is another, and it has been suggested that one can be found at Bryn Celli Ddu.[29]). The alignment is such that although the roofbox is above the passage entrance, the light hits the floor of the inner chamber. Today the first light enters about four minutes after sunrise, but calculations based on the precession of the Earth show that 5,000 years ago first light would have entered exactly at sunrise.[15]

The solar alignment at Newgrange is very precise compared to similar phenomena at other passage graves such as Dowth or Maes Howe in the Orkney Islands, off the coast of Scotland. Current-day visitors to Newgrange are treated to a re-enactment of this event through the use of electric lights situated within the tomb. The finale of a Newgrange tour results in every tour member standing inside the tomb where the tour guide then turns off the lights, and lights the light bulb simulating the sun as it would appear on the winter solstice. Anyone visiting the historic site can experience an approximation of the phenomenon any time of year, and is often the highlight of the tour. A lottery is held annually for "tickets" to allow the holder into the tomb to view the actual event. The popularity of this event was the reason a lottery was introduced, and also why the lights were installed.[citation needed]

Jennifer s christmas recipe on Quick Honey Christmas Cake Ring.

Ciste Nollag from "Irish Traditional Food" by Theodora FitzGibbon

Christmas cake_ Cakes_ Christmas Baking with SusieJ 2r.jpg (8.26 KiB) Viewed 229 times

This is a family recipe dating from 1860, it is a very rich and toothy fruitcake Nice idea to post the recipe for the Cake - it's from a good Irish Cookery Writer called Theodora Fitzgibbon, now passed away. I'll change it into metric.

From Theodora Fitzgibbon:

Quick Honey Christmas Cake Ring.

250 gms. butter, softened slightly.

200 gms soft brown sugar.

2 rounded tablespoons set honey.

5 medium eggs.

125 gms chopped mixed peel (do you know what that is - candied peel?)

75 gms blanched almonds slightly chopped.

125 gms halved glace cherries,

250 gms each of currants, raisins and sultanas (or can leave out the currants & increase the other amounts.)

270 gms plain flour.

1 level teaspoon baking powder.

1 level teaspoon ground nutmeg

1/2 level teaspoon cinnamon.

1-2 tablespoons whiskey, brandy or dark rum.

Grease a 30 cm ring tin (Bundt tin).. Preheat the oven to 150 degrees C.

Put all ingredients except the spirit into a large mixing bowl and beat with a wooden spoon for 3 minute (or slowly in an electric mixer) Then add spirit.

Sprinkle the greased ring tin with a little flour, shaking out any excess, then put the mixture in carefully, smoothing the top over well.

Bake in the centre of the oven for about 2 hours, covering the top loosely with paper or foil if it's getting too brown. Switch off the oven and leave for about 30 minutes before turning out carefully onto a wire rack. Then put on a plate, prick with a skewer and sprinkle over more spirit. (I used brandy). When well soaked, wrap in foil and store in an airtight tin.

And no J, not a clue what that is

I doubt those " two tablespoons of dark rum" will be the end of it ...might expand a bit..but that just a guess on my part google to the rescue yep found it, we have a word for it too but if you would pronounce it you d break your tongue cant have that can we some sort of sugary fruit thingies it seems often used in that sort of thing, bakery of that sort at christmas , here too.

merry christmas guaranteed hehehe

We are just heroes , all of us, by default.

We are doing great, keep the vibes going J and all keep the vibes going

I know it s rough out there and will get rougher nothing new under the sun nothing we cant handle we just need more life force energy we are just starting up you see next year we ll go for the ton the show aint over till the fat lady sings right haven t heard her yet so we do fine it was a good year, really so the best untill now for me lots of breakthroughs lots of new folk doing something good each in their own capacity learning curves will think about sunday , making a wishlist thing affirmation

I am not so talented as mr Tony, but I ll look into it we will see about that

Listen to Ray get organised great job Ray

good vibes this man

[youtube]wxPE-Mhh0ds[/youtube] keep the awareness days going it is important stay away from the green mafia

pump out lots of those plaster hearts for the benefit of all
thank you

tá a fhios agat gan tú , bhean J , seo d'fhéadfadh riamh a tharla go raibh míle maith agat go leor de na buíochas

Re: THE IRISH TOPIC

Looking forward to you writing a few lines of affirmation, hope you can, it doesn't need to be earth shattering, just heartfelt. If it doesn't flow for you we will go back to Aine's again.

Saw your post in 'Personal Opinions' watching the video about Alex Jones, it seems as though it's impossible to believe anyone these days. I'm astonished that people I know that I'd consider fairly bright are seriously discussing the Flat Earth theory, and watching videos that try to support the theory. I'm afraid I'm inclined to laugh at them, and ask them is the earth therefore balancing on top of a very large tortoise as was believed at some stage As I said somewhere else a while ago, poor old Galileo must be turning in his grave.

Re: THE IRISH TOPIC

ah...I see you are still in the " religious phase" oohaaa... hehehe best to jump over that stage and you know, just deal with facts, facts can be boring but there is more later on, the same as with the orgonite work, for newcomers might seem a bit dorky or so, it has had its cover of new agy flavor tossed over it, that s all by design, it has nothing to do with an agenda.

At least the natural way for sure hasnt

Just agenda s Jenn

that rules the show around us

There are none of those big names that are really on our side

That s just the way it is

Would they allow all those AJ types to prattle about this and that on their networks

It s all a laugh at us that s what it is , lots of money in it too.

Basically it s all a joke , a show, entertainment

It s usually fantasy and BS hand in hand with Fear, the greatest controller Always fear that handicaps folk to think straight and naturally

One way or another they , those jokers who nowadays are even on TV , just the thought...like Jesse Ventura and a whole bunch of them they all know each other you know they all know each other part of the controlled opposition club that's all it is just techniques they know work on the public to control them, so they don't start doing something useful or even worse, start to think for themselves that's the biggest fear they have once you truly start thinking for yourself, which is not so easy as it sounds due to massive propaganda galore, you can gradually slip through the mazes of deception it can be done if one really wants to but you won't make too many friends and besides it is a personal journey, your own path nobody else's

it does not matter
I would not want to have it any other way it is not for the average Joe or Jane even in native communities most folk don't want to go there that's just the way it is, for many reasons all has a price and a reward in many forms it's a long story and maybe not for now but I can assure all one needs to know Jacques mentioned all of it
gradually one will find out there is a total lack of crap in his words as pure as can be after years I start to understand him and some others how it really connects and works out and funny enough, like one time Juliet said something about connection of orgonite / life force energy pieces, something just a sentence whoops out of the blue
you know
but it has to come from the heart not the mind I often thought it was far fetched or "mysterious" well it is real but it takes time to experience, to find out, some mistakes some successes etc and then it suddenly clicks ...and later on again...and the clicking starts to go faster learning to walk again for real it is a growing process, endless there is a lot to say about him and some others too Stephen called it his sharing and caring nature that made him stand out yes I do agree, that's one of the most remarkable aspects of his legacy it's not just that it is also a good example of going your own journey through life against the maelstroms around us trying to grab us in many ways showing you can work towards the benefit of all and do a lot of experience and all sorts of encounters on your individual way but still working in a connection to others the plasterite or any other method of this energy we use, is just that, a method, a technique, very diverse in application it is not a dogma

After he came up with much more advanced methods, read, simple but even more effective ways, saw a lot of other folk start to look into that also

I wont mention names but a lot of folk start to work with those techniques too simply because they are better in many ways skipping this that and the other

I wont talk too much about the " resin club" as that's a different story...

and believe you me you don't want to hear my opinion on that ..well...whatever..;

If folk like Schauberger, Reich, and others had been granted the opportunity to experiment further and further etc they would have come up with many more methods we could use, etc, as not all their work is revealed and we all know things happened once the control grid had enough of it we are always kept in the dark of real things that drive us forward it is just owning it to a few individuals who do the right thing we even have what we have also the belief in ourselves hahaha...yeah..another joke of the system to tease us this hocus pocus they dish out, flat earth oh boy middle earth, hollow earth, flat earth, global cooling, ice age, warming, doesnt work out, ok climate change it s either bollocks or it is manipulated, staged, controlled, etc when I woke up as they say you know, we all had our dose of lcky his reptile hoopla jadjaja and we were all too naive and such and they lure you into that crap moon spaceships all bollocks but done in a awesome format you just roll in, without thinking , we just lap it up this one per cent rat poison unknowingly usually that was in my pre orgonite days so after a while I talked to a also aware woman and she listened to me the moment I went about " aliens" green lizzards from outer space she looked at me and she said something along these lines sss.gif (388.73 KiB) Viewed 247 times and than it sort of imploded in me and I thought, oh shit , I ve been had LOL than I started to unravel the whole thing it s just a con game very deceptive , lots of truths mixed in but one way or another it defuses us renders us harmless have to do other things now will look into the affirmation etc will do

all the best

enjoy your cake and brandy

Job well done Jenn, appreciated but I did think about it and after some weighing left and right decide to let this candle go me by Doing a little recapitulation here, sorting things out , deep delving here that s ok , but honestly I am not in the right atmosphere to do an affirmation at this time, at least not yet will look into it hopefully but not now, now is not the time for me to do that it is not so my style

Tossing with ideas but I must say Tony has given so much to delve into it is maybe best if folk read that again and make up their own mind, you see it is the best way to go if folk interested do their own " healing session" so to speak

We dont have to keep reinventing the wheel

And Tony s wheels can take us a long way

So I will not gloss over his words and bring them up again as a starting point for those who want to go there

Re: New mix for Orgonite

by josh »

I will share with you what I feel and believe deeply, it is a bit off the common path but that is the way it is, I believe with all my being that all is alive with a large degree of consciousness and has the right to ask for the greatest degree of respect, and as I walk among the trees, the grass, the clouds, the winged people, the four legged, the creepy crawlies I have no problem what ever to behave toward them as if they were my close relatives, because they are, they are my relations, the grand fathers the rocks, the water, the air, the earth I walk on, all of them are wonderful friends of mine, and I do not want it any other way.

I am never alone

So for your pipe stone dust, it is your relative as well, speak to it and ask what is the best for her, will she accept to help in this way, or would she rather be in a medicine pouch,.....listen, she is conscious, and as you give this closeness, this intimate feeling to ALL that surrounds you: you will feel so elated, there is not one moment where you will not know that you are with your close family

I do like very much your interest and energy in this whole matter it is very worthwhile, but just playing with ideas here, after a few affirmations we have done now, people will have an idea of how it goes, thus maybe it is better if the individual decides what his or her particular topic of energy focuss will be, for themselves, as to be honest, I never use any other affirmations given by others, I always design my own affirmations, my own intents, independently of anyone else, as that s maybe the best way to do it after one starts up, at first some help can be needed but after that the bird has to fly by itself in freedom unguided uncontrolled, it may bump into a tree once every blue moon, but still that is the only true way to go forward with it basically meaning, the only real change can come out of ourselves by our own works

Still, nevertheless, it is a good objective to do as what s being done, namely showing people objectives to work on, etc.

Fine with me but it is not necesarrily for me to.

my breakthrough happened once I learned to accept the aspect of consciousness in the greater sense and I am not talking about David Icke Russel Brand " infinite consciousness " hoopla no, talking about the real thing

It would be very dorky of me to say how I do those intentions / affirmation, just know the consciousness thing is a real thing, it has just also been taken over by the new age to bring us into this utopia the elite keep jabbing about in other words, real healing is sort of hijacked what they always do with all truths by the way, and than manipulated and guided into an agenda essential parts are always taken out of course those that can truly help us I never wanted or thought to go hundred miles with this energy stuff I just wanted blue sky that s all I wanted the rest is of secondary importance to me but I got much much more than I bargained for as they say the one page starts growing into a book by itself

Also must learn , sometimes, to keep some parts of truth, to myself To learn to dose it more or just keep it to myself truth is usually not the easiest thing to handle as we are all , no exceptions, somehow in some way infected by this system what I call control grid nobody is imune for it, some just have higher walls of defence Once you realise there is a sort of awareness there, with the plasterite, that s the start thats all I have to say to it once you cross that bridge and actually handle the environement that way with the " energywork" for lack of a better word, we do, well, that s a sort of acceptance an inner change one could say once you break that door down that holds us in a rigid belief system you are on your way out it is not a sort of escapism the way the new age sort of poisons it with it is real it is out there and if you go through the information Jacques has given us I can guarantee it is all there it is all in there all you ever need to know to get started and find your own way there are not shortcuts no easy way out but real healing is real like real spirituality is real all those things have been hijacked by the system plasterite is a conscious energy source for the healer to be used for good purposes voila
all in one sentence

Besides in my expectation, Tony has more experience with things like working with people, maybe best to ask him to work on a good objective for those interested to be used as a focus point.
Also thinking about how things work out on a larger level and maybe I do agree that it is best the way it goes as plasterite was never and will never be intended to be of general use for the public therefor do not feel bad about it, those who are fit for it will jump on it, maybe that is the way it goes maybe that is a good way Those who are ready for it, will come to it and that s the natural order of things our numbers may seem small but personally I could not give a hood about such sort of statistics It does not mean anything to me what Jane and John are doing , you know most folk want to belong want to conform want to be member of big groups, etc those folk , the majority, well no... it is all meant for those " oddballs" like we , who grasp a sprak of something amazing that s there and we use the selenite way to get in touch with it in an individual way

Besides the selenite way I have tested , but not reported, other methods, they do work to some extent , some are strong, but no method tested has the strenght of the selenite the clarity, the purity, the harshness and directness of showing reality for what it is and also helping the searcher of truth to more easily open the door you could call it doors of perception in a way that is true

Josh showed us a real path, it is not an easy path, luckily most ignore it like they are completely out of balance and knowledge that is , in a way , good, as strange as that may sound, as therefor the plasterite still has managed to survive
it has not been hijacked and will not be hijacked it will always be under attack and again could not care less it s all behind me now it truly is later on you discover the whole truth movement is a joke, there is no truth movement , it s all controlled , in the pocket all on the payroll or whatever the only real impact I see is through the average oddballs like us , doing real change, or at least honest work folk like Terry and Max etc those characters and between you and me, give Terry a big cone to put in his garden somewhere during spring as the weather clears up around april or something he will see the effects he wont call it " hippie dippie" anymore the last thing is to say all those awareness days you lot do are worthless they are for sure not there are a lot of things in the game here dont underestimate the effect in a way , so to speak, plasterite, the way I use it , is using the spiritual healing aspect of it all in tandem with the tomahawk success guaranteed

today I looked into Max Igan as he is the founder of this crowhouse thing the australian guy talks with that funny accent and yes I think he is for real could not find too much crap in his work yes he has a tendency to talk a lot about " energy stuff" you know, I am not too cosy with that, although there is some truth in it but he does good exposes and such he is older and has some wisdom wont hurt to look into his talks etc it is also true he does not just talk he gives his own reality too, of how things are he is honest in that sense with topics like geo engineering he really goes wild, still he is very much in touch with the balance thing and again there is a lot of good truths in his work he is on the ball a good shaman lives in two worls, not in one or the other he lives in both worlds or more worlds but he always balances energy so important in times we are completely flooded with so much shite it is unbelievable just keeping a sane mind nowadays is a real challenge just that so a good " medicine man" for lack of a better word, cares for his tools of light, his knowledge and experiences and sharing the " spirits" for lack of a better word, but while sitting at his or her camp fire always keep a tomahawk very close otherwise the medice man or woman wont last too long in the wilderness most people will not make it in this reality above facebook level that s the way it is maybe that s the way it always has been and always will be found a good discussion on that on the max igan forum this crowhouse forum about how things really are, as we all know, by now , how hard it is out there the why s and where fors and why it is so hard to really change or influence something as there are so many things at play at the same time really interesting material going deeper than the silly FB level

The only remark I have on Max Igan is he pushes the zionist hoopla sad but true long story wont go into that it is complicated and most would not have an idea what it s all about just like the Dane Wigginton thing most dont even have a clue how deep it all goes but in general yes a wise man I d say

Did collect some clips of him on several topics , also orgonite related topics LOL yes folks we are an orgonite forum LOL LOL heheheh he does a nice talk there about its effects interesting for newcomers maybe would be great for folk like him to play with bigger toys but ... that s another story....

Or maybe let Aine do it let her play with the thought and see what comes up to share with the group I do love those things Jenn never thought I would

Although this is just one of the few remaining outposts left, there are really not too many of those, most are long infiltrated , overrun by the system in many ways won t go into that now might hurt some feelings besides from not being owned by the system and that in itself means a lot these days spouting some agenda one way or another we just try to focus on truths, you know, solutions in a way for the individual to keep hold on their sanity in this age of deception and confusion making the individual , the truth seeker, the genuine ones, not the Alex Jones types..., stronger in balance not by silly endless nwo fear mongering, all the crap you ve heard before and that is just one part of the story there is more in this life than the eye can see there is real stuff out there one way or another the system will not back off what also is of importance working with natural life force energy methods is you are actually doing something real you are out there doing something real also in the physical realm

the crowhouse discussion which is a rather good one

Back from a 6 week hiatus, Max Igan's Surviving the Matrix covers the total criminalization of society by our unlawful legal system, and recommends refusal to pay taxes, global civil disobedience and non-compliance as the solution.

Max gets me annoyed. He's obviously intelligent, thoughtful and empathic, but there's a lack of rigor in his thinking, Pat, meaningless catch phrases are offered as sagacious solutions. This is sweet sounding cockamamie cow dung. And yet another "truther" dishing out the theosophist "vibrations are a changing" frequency voodoo. Non-cooperation is a basic first step—duh. We need to go further. Where's our energy? If the elite secret societies are busy destroying those things that allow humans to be physically, mentally, emotionally and spiritually healthy so that they can build their depopulated control salve planet, I think it's about time we started popping their party big time. Let's whip all the harmful shit from the face of the earth: vaccinations, chemtrails, nuclear power and cluster bombs, culture creation and Lady Gaga. Let's flush it down the pan and use our knowledge and wisdom to build a new culture. One thing these illuminati fuckers know is that you have to whip out the old culture to bring in the new. 2012 is arse kicking time, or you sit there waiting for your vibrations to change mother fucker.

Not that I disagree, but what you've written here sounds like meaningless catch phrases offered as sagacious solutions. How is your recommendation of whipping harmful shit from the face of the earth any less sweet sounding cockamamie cow dung than what Max presents? I agree with you that we need to go further and many people are. Max has done a lot of on location activism concerning the fracking issue and started large community meetings. Do you have a website and radio show exposing these things? What are you doing to use your knowledge and wisdom to build a new culture?

Is this some materialist trip for you Eric? "Hey, I got a website. Ain't I the man?" "Cool dude. Check out my latest radio show. Does ma bum sound too big?" "I thought that was your mouth you were talking out of."

I'll leave the bragging rights to you talented folks. I'm tired of the baby food, Papa Don. We're being crucified and old Max is singing Truth Vibrations and Love Changes Everything. We're marching to Zion and it ain't no beautiful City of God. We've got to fight for our physical, mental, and spiritual health. Non-cooperation my butt. Fuck up the system, little acts, every opportunity. That's my hymn sheet. And it's jazz man. Love ain't waiting for the universe's harmonics to tune up. The band's late. Fuck'em. The show's now and this choir's gotta start rocking. Love, little vegan buddy, is slaying the dragon and char grilling the slices. You can "Amen" with Saint Max, but I'm for mayhem to the max.

The truth movement ain't gonna win the intellectual argument because the people who are still sleeping ain't got no intellect. Soft center candy is all well and good, but sometimes old buddy, you gotta start chewing on the toffee.

Serious now, I an I can't be telling you what I an I is doing. But I can say this waiting for the cosmic vibrations to change, sit on the arse, non-cooperate passive chicken pooh, is wishing for the fairies. Is this what "we're" going with against these ultra-psycho WWII have some fluoride in your tap water, tazer tossers, sticking needles into babies and spraying the sky with toxins? What mushrooms are you raw eating Rudolph?

I an I is not happy brother No Cook. We gotta go guerilla and old Max is promoting Thanks Giving turkey. They got Gitmo and we got No, but thank you for the offer. I'm for saying this is it. This is the resistance, it's not going to grow anymore. The deaf and dumb is trying really hard not to see. Let's take the fight to the enemy. Get off your Chicken Wing Chung cushion and start farting your way to victory. Seriously man, I think the only black holes that will releasing vibrations are ours, and if don't do the farting who will?

Hey Eric,

i think the message that "anon" above is trying to communicate is this: (and no disrespect is intended) many of us are fully aware that this matrix is virtually EVERYTHING & EVERYONE. there is nothing left to prove to us that we live in a matrix.

many of us have been "sounding the alarm" for years or in my case, decades about these issues, long before regular folks had access to create our own websites, radio shows, blogs, etc.

many of us are utterly disgusted by the lack of awareness/ willful degeneration within the general population of our brethren and have become somewhat anit-social.(talking about me here, hehe)

i think what "anon" is trying to state is : we already know the enemy, their methods, their evil plans. it has not changed in millennium. we are still discussing while the agenda rolls along, and has been. why are we (society) not taking action instead of waiting for "hope and change" feel good placebo ideals that obviously keep us against each other and secures our mental bondage further?

Eric, you do great work. keep it up.

Based on the dilemma that is being confronted here between Eric and the first Anon, I would say that that there is NOTHING that we can do. The moment we try to do something is the moment some other group is going to use it to co-opt you into doing patronage favours for them.

Being aware is enough in and of itself.

I don't see how a "new culture" can mean the end of the insane amount of suffering, desperation, and madness that is already inherent in the world. The phrase, "new culture" is too vague and could mean a million things to every single individual.
But - that is just me.

I don't wanna bamboozle you with the science but human being is body, mind, emotions and puff. Now we is under the attack, so no one can be healthy in none of that ways. So we is shaking our collective index finger and sayin' to The Man, "we ain't gonna cooperate with you spraying our air, toxin our water, and throwin' us in the Gulag." And here's the thing — he don't need our cooperation. I'm saying we gotta get more bitching. These illuminati fucks ain't playing Queensbury rules.

there is no real truth movement. most of it is a part of the matrix meant to keep tabs on any "semi-awake" humans.

through-out history; much smarter people with much greater resources than most of us here, have been discussing these topics and how to free humanity.

no one else in history has been able to come up with a workable plan to combat this agenda that is quite ancient.

i dont have any solutions.

i dont think small scale violence will work.

i dont thnk there will be a shift in human consciousness.

i dont think there will be a collective human consciousness.

i do think that this "war for a free humanity" was fought and lost a long, long time ago.

we(all) are the property/slaves/goyim of "they".

most of us have been conditioned to not question the matrix.

for those of us who do question, a "movement" program is created to placate us.

it gives us a way to vent so that we dont get a bit more upset at our situation caused by "they".

im just giving my opinion Eric, not sure why "anon" is being a d-bag to you, but i sure do feel his frustration.

nvra75 is generally right in his assessment of our current condition.

The very resistance movement that is fabricated to allegedly, "free" the prisoners may be another prison of even tighter control.

All political and social movements have been corrupted by, "they" in some manner or another. There is nothing that can be ever done because every action will result in reaction that is in the opposite direction.

Positive change or not, the game is rigged, and a movement is just like a movie...inside your mind.

Now what is you all sayin'. We already lost, nothin' we able to do, we more impotent than the sheeple. Heavens above. I bellowing revolution and you don't even believe Max singing Kumbyah is worth the effort. We a sorry bunch or what?

We're not thinking of ideas. There's no group genius here fellas. We looking at videos about the FED and all that jack, and we breathing in the chemtrails, and going wuh, and old Max is singing lullabies, and we, well thats all that can be done, after all they gonna tazer our ass and drown us with a wet wipe.

We got to face it, this movement is impotent cause we afraid. We don't want our lives to be ruined by no baton round from a psycho cop, or a decade in prison for writing some huff on our twitter account.

But our lives are already gone. So what we got to lose. We got to stop being impotent. Max is sound, but is sound enough?

"Now what is you all sayin'. We already lost, nothin' we able to do, We a sorry bunch or what?"
yes "anon from yard" we (humanity) already lost this war. a very long time ago.

we are not discussing this as free humans. we are discussing this as slaves/goyim who happen to be "aware" of the matrix. anomaly slaves who have somehow held onto some ability to see the matrix despite the genetic manipulation of our food, air , water, mental/physical/spiritual health, tainted vaccines, etc....

"We're not thinking of ideas. There's no group genius here fellas.....tazer our ass and drown us with a wet wipe. " this isnt version 1.0, we arent the 1st group of "aware" humans to have these discussions.

much smarter people with much greater resources through out history have not been able to come up with a workable solution, because it requires a collective human consciousness/awareness mixed with small scale (global numbers), highly directed guillotine festival.

But that will never happen (globally/simultaneously). "they" have counter measures (D.U M B.S, Rex 84, operation gardenplot, etc).

not to mention that "they" are psychopaths who want to watch the world burn. "they" don't mind if they burn with it. kinda like kamikaze style.

"We got to face it, this movement is impotent cause we're afraid..... writing some huff on our twitter account."

no this "movement" is impotent because it is a "movement". Movements are created by "they". humans aren't free because we lack 2 key elements: a collective consciousness & guillotine festival.

you claim that you are an "anarchist", but you are rebelling against the results of an anarchist system. "they" don't believe in laws/rules/order for themselves.

"they" are anarchists.

i feel your anger bro, and i'm there with you. but small scale disruptions in the matrix are dealt with and forgotten or martyred. either way the agenda rolls along as it has for several millennia.

Right? This defeatist mindset isn't helping anything... whether you think you can or you think you can't, either way, you're right. Because what we think/feel creates what we experience. People's use of the word "movement" is a problem too. I understand certain controlled opposition groups have funded and/or co-opted "movements" in the past, but the kind of "movement" myself and many others hope/try to inspire is completely internal. I'm not trying to get people to externally DO anything, but to internally BE something. Change what/how you ARE. Don't go out and protest, join some group, or write your politicians. Just meditate on your life, your contribution, and what you have to offer the world in this time of need. This is the shift in consciousness that starts inside the individual and eventually externally effects the collective without ever becoming a nameable, lead-able "movement." nvra75 said...

"A lot of depressing pessimistic comments here.....very sad."

i agree with you, it is depressing.

"they" don't care what mentality we have.

"they" want our energy, then they want us dead. in that order.

"whether you think you can or you think you can't, either way, you're right."

that is weak argument bro.

so amputees can think/pray their missing limb to grow back?

if they don't think/pray well enough then no limb regeneration?

i totally get the "positive" energy concept but that doesn't work across the board.

i encourage your approach but it seems logistically impossible for enslaved humans (globally) to simultaneously become "aware" and then act quick enough to eliminate "they" before "they" set the world on fire.

much better people have tried and failed to free humanity by waiting for messiahs, vibration realignments, consciousness shifts, acts of violence, positive energy, etc....

the agenda rolls along. "they" want our energy, then they want us dead. in that order.

Once again, nvra75 could not have said it better.

It has nothing to do with truth vibrations, harmonic frequencies of the earth grid (although it figures greatly in the Elite's plans), and infinite love or raw vegan diets - I am sorry, but these positive promoting love-bombs change nothing in the end.

The Elites could not care less about our, "vibrations" and, "consciousness" - whether we have one or not is a matter of irrelevance to them because those acts of meditation, prayer, and pleading for a messiah is a one messy situation.

If you prefer to pray, go raw, or for that matter go into the mountains and isolate yourself, go ahead and be my guest.

Just know that no mass awakening is going to take place. Our entire existence is rigged from cradle to grave.

Why does getting out of the matrix not require mass awakening? Because that suggests weight, which is a burden upon one fruitless individual in the matrix.

Things don't change because it's never been approached properly. People talk, they like to think that it's been attempted already..but it's hasn't. We're all caught up in this movie like scenario where we think we have to rebel and push back in large numbers with violence. That's not it!!!!!! Like Eric said, the change has to be you. Overcome being scared. Overcome looking at the world with the defeatist mindset.

Overcome hate and resentment. These things fuel the fire, and are the perfect recipe for a stagnant situation. Do the opposite. Isn't it obvious? The challenge is breaking our programmed thought habits and behavior. But you're aware now, so you work towards getting better. It's about today. Be the best today..and you'll influence others and it'll rub off on people. That's the only way. Don't look at yesterday and overwhelm yourself with tomorrow. Grab your sacks, and man up!! And before replying and giving me the same ole "oh yea ok..those are awesome words there bud, but really, let's be realistic here.."

REALIZE that that's the problem, and one of the programmed thought patterns that we've been introduced to. You want change? Well change starts with you.

It is rather hasty of the above, "Anonymous" to assume that somehow those of us who do not want to resist or for that matter do anything whatsoever to fix up the world are, "scared" in any way. At least I know I am not afraid of the events that are transpiring throughout the world.

The above Anonymous implies the same argument of, "vibrations" and a ripple-effect that should, or would somehow effect everyone eventually. The problem is that it is another feel-good solution to a world that is un-repairable and hopeless in fixing.

As far as I can agree with the above Anonymous is that, yes, we need to change ourselves. However, I must point out that I am not being, "defeatist." I am merely pointing out the reality of our irreparable situation.

I agree that we need to change ourselves, but not for the same reasons that Anonymous is suggesting. Maybe our, "realistic" comments may or may not be programmed into us, but nevertheless, I do not believe in resistance, and the concept of a global revolution that will somehow, miraculously give us peace on earth.

The word that proves your pessimistic, defeatist mindset is "irreparable." We got ourselves into this mess, we can get ourselves out. Our situation is most certainly NOT irreparable. As for your defeatist attitude, I'm not sure if that's repairable or not.

that is quite a presumptuous statement. how do you know all of the various ways that the attempt of human liberation has been approached in the past?

how is it that you have the insight to know what has/ has not been attempted through out history?

"Were all caught up in this movie like scenario.....large numbers with violence. Thats not it!!!!"

we are between a rock and hard place on this one.

"they" are psychopaths psychopaths can not be reasoned with, will not change through compassion or love or passive resistance or , etc...

psychopaths will always do what psychopaths have always done. evil!

"Like Eric said, the change has to be you.... Overcome looking at the world with the defeatist mindset. Overcome hate and resentment."

generally these are valid views in our HUMAN experience except we are dealing with "they", and "they" are psychopaths. it is impossible to "overcome hate and resentment" of a species that has committed a voluminous amount of atrocities against humanity.

you still seem to think you are a free human being.

you are not. none of us are.

that deserves a bit of "hate and resentment".

"The challenge is breaking our programmed thought habits and behavior. But you're aware now, so you work towards getting better. It's about today. Be the best today..Grab your sacks, and man up!!" very valid and very corny, lol. i agree with the "after school special" theme you expressed, except those type of positive ripples spreading out very far are very inconsistent. kinda like praying.

@Eric

i ask again, can an amputee with an optimistic, positive energy mindset repair his/her missing limb with this energy? if no, would this make them pessimistic and defeatist? im not sure how you come to the conclusion: "we got ourselves into this mess" "they" have been around for a long time. global human bondage didn't just happen on our watch.
we were born slaves. our parents were born slaves, their parents were born slaves, etc..... do you honestly think you are a free human being?

I don't only think it, I know I am a free human being just like everyone else. Just because they've created a slave system doesn't mean I'm a slave. Again, hate to sound new agey, but your negative vibes are boring the shit out of me and just make me laugh and roll my eyes. Non-noun writes:

This is an interesting conversation you fellas are having. Important. Hear each other. There's no harm in listening and understanding.

For my part, I'm reminded that not so long ago people were able to live in largely self-sufficient human-scale communities. They knew how to farm, and how to build a barn, and a house, and a church, and furniture, how to make clothes, and all manner of folk remedies to heal themselves and each other. Skills that are now almost lost.

How could they do those things? How did they know? The knowledge was in the community, it was their way of life, their culture.

Here we are, seemingly stuck in a increasingly psychopathic culture. We are under attack in all manner of ways. But the solutions are not mysterious, and not beyond us. Every journey is made of small steps — that's a wise old saying.

To reach a destination it helps to have a map, but without a map it helps to have principles that can guide you. A route is just a sequence, turn here, turn there. The sequence is simple and perhaps I should explain it. But right here I'll just say it's not so difficult.

And a culture, well that's just a pattern, a more complex sequence. A pattern is not so difficult to construct.

The violence, the tearing down of the present dominant system, will happen naturally, the result of establishing new healthy ways of living our lives.

And the pessimism, the idea that we are lost — that just comes from not knowing the route. Once you have a route, or at least the principles that can guide you, then each step is seen as it really is, a part of the journey, progress.

I guess I should write more, but I don't know how to explain it well. Too many threads running in my head. But there's no need to feel defeated, or frustrated. Just travel in the right direction. it will work.

ok, this is your blog bro, i don't want to step on any toes so i wont post anymore.

but, i don't know who xinyu is nor am i trying to double-team you with negativity nor am i attempting to patronize you.

there is a chart that describes the development of great nations.

it seems pretty accurate of current history and can probably be used on a global scale.

Bondage to Spiritual Faith;

Spiritual Faith to Courage; Courage to Freedom;

Freedom to Abundance;

Abundance to Selfishness;

Selfishness to Complacency;

Complacency to Apathy;

Apathy to Fear;

Fear to Dependency;

Dependency to Bondage my line of thinking is this:

if we (humans) aren't ALL free, then NONE of us are really free.

you stated that you have a "great life", me too. i am very fortunate, i have a great family, loving wife, a few real friends, and 2 cool dogs. my energy is not that negative despite what you read here.

but bro, half of our brethren, globally, are being "soft killed" through abject poverty and economic slavery. thats alot of negative energy.

then "they" also make the "fortunate" humans unwitting participants in their slavery based consumerist economy.

humans with money feed on the energy of humans with less money. all consumer products come from slave labor made from resources that have been stolen.

there is no equitable exchange amongst us, we are feeding off of each other. (globally) that bothers me alot. maybe your right, maybe i do have more negative energy than i realized, but i will hang on to it.

maybe a combination of pos/neg energy might do the trick. lol

When you and your girlfriend start having kids, propagate into your kids the same mentality that you have - that the world can be fixed.

Then, when you have grown into a slender old man in your 90s, come back and tell us if your kids or their kids have managed to, "fix" the world up in any shape way or form. Do not bullshit me the results. I think you know the answer already.

Seeing the world in terms of positive/negative is one of the biggest problems in the first place. It is polarizes the world, antagonizes people, creates animosity, division, confusion, and endless suffering and pain.

Nobody is trying to belittle you, patronize you, or gang up on you Eric. Nobody has said that they are against YOU. None of us are.

What I hope you can understand from this exchange of ideas is that to fight to the death for your freedoms is not worth it, because how do you plan on making the illusory 3D matrix better if you already know it does not exist in the first place?

Thanks for everyone who joined the discussion even though it's depressing.

The solution is never going to happen at one (e.g. with a revolution), because it took them so long to come to this level of deception, control, etc from their part and unawareness, fearfulness, selfishness, etc from our part. It is not actually two groups of people opposite of each other. It's more like majority of people serving the system enslaving the humanity unknowingly (because of their unawareness, apathy, close-mindedness) or knowingly (because of their selfishness, fear, helplessness). If there is going to be a solution it is going to be slow (slower than how long it took them to create the system (it meant to be done underground the potential slaves to slave themselves. Willing participants selfishness, unwillingness to accept the other person is better, complacency didn't/doesn't help them either).

The solution is going to be in our mind, which is strong enough to replicate it to the outside. Mind you that everything can be counted including the mind. Mind develops our Will. How we construct our mind will determine our Wills, consequently our lives.

I will leave you to make a judgement upon your mind. But the question I ask is this: are you ready to risk your money, life comforts, relationships and ultimately our life TO FOLLOW YOUR CONSCIENCE OR WILL? If not, you (including myself) still need to develop ourselves intellectually and spiritually. You may ask why do we need to come to that state of conscience. You won't understand why unless you arrive to that level either intellectually or spiritually.

Most of us are saying: "We can do nothing about the system, so why even try?". We need to see the bigger picture than our short lives just like what They did when they put the plans in. If the plan were to profit individuals, it would have never accomplished. I'm touching the subject of intergenerational beings, which you may or may not believe, so I'll stop here.

We can't judge the possibility to win the battle from our life's point of view which is too short. Every human being is born with only positive attitudes, but is given a Will to choose the good or the bad.

When we are kids our families have a big influence on us, but later on it's up to us what to do and what not to. The ones who haven't been brainwashed enough have a chance to learn the truth (if they wish to). If we are lucky, then we HAVE TO continue our journey to reach the level of consciousness which will free us both internally and externally. We may or may not reach that level ourselves, but surely can instill the mindset into our children who in turn will have a BIGGER chance of reaching that level. When enough amount of people than have reached that level at the same time (doesn't need to be the majority), the system will crush when it can't sustain itself because there won't be enough unaware participants to sustain it.

It may happen much earlier if there is going to be a major clash - people not fearful of death in order to become free are way stronger than the one who is doing what he is doing to earn money, etc.

What I wrote above is very similar to what's happening in the world right now only if you are not aware that all of those revolutions had been planned long ago and have being executed with the help of ordinary people who really think they are the winners and will reach freedom. Most of them have no idea that they are being organised and led by the same people who have put those dictators in place and kept them there. The only result from all this will only be more and even tighter control which will eventually lead to the slaves loving their servitude.

Whatever happens should happen naturally rather than by design. And this will take longer than most people expect.

All of us has a battle to win over their own lives, minds and conscience.

What I hope you can understand from this exchange of ideas is that to fight to the death for your freedoms is not worth it

It may not be worth for you, but don't make a judgement for others - let themselves to judge it for themselves.

The above Anonymous apparently forgot the second part of my last paragraph - that the entire 3D world is an illusion anyways.

So, I ask again - why save an illusion with your life? Is it really worth it? Trying to save something that does not exist, and that is only the consequence of smoke-and-mirrors magic sounds counterproductive. Again, I am a cynic, and a nihilist in the sense that I am, as George Carlin famously said, "divorcing humanity" whenever that happens.

The only way to get out of the dream world is not save it.

So you've come to the opposite conclusion of Krishna/Arjuna on the battle-field? Their logic makes far more sense to me.

According to Krishna, the role of man on this earth is to endure his lot, and to act in accordance with his place and destiny during his lifetime.

That is assuming that there is indeed a, "Krishna" being, and that while yes, life and death are both equally illusions in our rather numbing existence...why should you, or I be obliged to sacrifice our lives in a pointless endeavor that will never come to pass?

You'll only believe this Krishna-voodoo stuff if you actually consider yourself to be a, "warrior." Since I don't believe in Krishna, or god or Satan/Lucifer/Science, etc, nor the warrior-ethic, I am irresponsible for this mess, and will not engage in a fruitless non-existent battle of good-versus-evil; and therefore I am divorcing humanity, and the fate of humanity is not my responsibility as humanity is also an illusion.

You claim that the "the entire 3D world is an illusion...." I don't agree, but, hypothetically I'll accept your argument. Thus your question can be restated, "why save an illusion with an illusion?" To which I would answer, if all is illusion, then why not?

"Anonymous" Xinyu, who insists the 3D world and humanity is an illusion is the same Xinyu (I have your IP address) who said a few months ago:

The world is fucked, and the people (no matter which side you pick) are fucked beyond belief. I find it personally exciting to see humans fuck up, and I hope it always gets worse. The life of this world deserves to be sucked away, because - unless you believe in it - it is a whole load of bullshit.

This perfectly encapsulates his nihilistic, atheistic, pessimistic worldview. He constantly harps on me that I should "do nothing" not even meditate because all such action keeps me locked in the illusion.

Meanwhile he's spent the past 2+ years on here, my email, my facebook, non-stop pleading with me to "do nothing." When I point out that his persistent pestering me certainly isn't "doing nothing" he basks in his hypocrisy and comes back tomorrow to do it all over again.

February 4, 2012 at 11:27 PM

Doing nothing is shirking responsibility. It's participating in your own slavery and the slavery of your children, your own murder and the murder of countless others. It's the consent of silence. It's an excuse, a masquerade of superior what? wisdom, insight? When all that is behind it is fear. The fear of really facing reality. Guess what. This is not a movie. There's no comforting yourself that it's all fiction. This is as real as it gets.

Perfectly worded. This mindset comes from a fear of facing reality.
Yes, the material world is ultimately an illusion, but it's as real as it gets.

This perfectly encapsulates his nihilistic, atheistic, pessimistic worldview.

Firstly, you got some things misinterpreted and construed to your own liking (which I have to say is very dishonest and patronizing of you):

It is true that I am nihilist, but not in the sense that you are using it. I am only divorcing humanity because it is an insane asylum, and I didn't create this world, nor do I have the obligation to participate in the illusion. If you want to participate in, perpetuate it with more illusory knowledge, faith, dogma, doctrine, and false hope...go ahead.

Secondly, I am not an, "atheist." Just because I do not believe in God, it does not mean I believe in the scientific intellectual nonsense either. I am not on anyone's, "side." That is cabalism right there - the need to pick between an illusion of good and evil which are both non-existent.

Lastly, cynicism is not pessimism, hopelessness or despair. I have told you so many times already that I am a cynic, and the above - but you keep on flipping it to suit your own worldview. Don't do that - it is rude, and not only that - it is deceitful to your readers.

If you want to criticize me, don't put up random straw men, and attack a perspective that you have little appreciation or sympathy for.

Perhaps I came to accept this worldview because of my life experiences...does it make it wrong, or right?

No, but it suits me, and that is all that matters.

I am merely pointing out that if you realize the world is an illusion, then you don't need to save it, because like a dream, you'll have to sooner or later wake up from it. Am I right?

I am not, "lying" to myself to the above Anonymous. Yeah, you may think I am - but have you ever met me? Or are you just swallowing in Eric's propaganda machine launched against me for months now?

well said, nvra. never heard it said more clearly. thank you. and anonymous. your words are the real truth movement.

have you noticed how we evolve in this movement? decades ago i listened to audio tapes from this person or that. moved past them. spent a short while with alex jones. listened to david icke nearly a decade ago, evolved past those videos. also listened to max igan some time ago and quickly moved past his offerings. we cycle through the truthers and each time we find ourselves referred back to 'self'. i sometimes find that annoying and frustrating, but i also understand that that is as it should be. one answer to that question "well, what are you doing to help?" is 'raising my consciousness'.

to me max igan is just another presenter. a distraction, soother, placater. a new-new-ager. like david icke. that is why they are big. they are furthering the programming. the matrix is so booby-trapped with controlled opposition that it is a daring, bold move just to take a step. insread of being encouraged when we start seeing things as they are, we are criticized harshly for being critical toward those who are leaders in the 'movement'. a dead give-away. the louder these truthers yell about ingratitude the lower they are on the scale of truth. and consciousness.

i see this cycling through all these so-called leaders, as if they are from past lives, as very positive. and you can't go back. :-) i admire you guys for having the guts to speak up. questioning a truth leader is now tantamount to questioning the 'holocaust' or climate change. your words are more enabling and inspiring than those in the videos, and demonstrate a higher and growing consciousness.

as far as what to do? we may or may not know what to do - in that maybe we already have the answers but don't always see them as such. that is how we are programmed. it is helpful to acknowledge that and move past it. because in reality, we do know. do what you know to do and can do in any given moment as you feel it. desire a free, abundant life and put your energy toward that in any one of a million ways.

comment part II : - O

what is the situation? the earth and all its inhabitants, all institutions, and aspects of life are being taken over by evil, powerful, blood-lusted psychopaths.

how many of them are there? i would say, because of inbreeding programs and worldwide ptsd, the percentage may be as high as 7. in reality, not very many.

where do they get their power? mostly from us. how so? we fund them. in many ways. we even spend billions purchasing their police state surveillance toys and put them in our homes, cars, and pockets, and give them to our children. when new toys come out, which is every single day, we upgrade. we shop at corporations instead of small local businesses. and now our small, privately-owned businesses are being done away with.

we pay taxes. it can be dangerous for us if we do not. (though we can find lots of ways to decrease the amount we are forced to give them). we man their corporate branches and support the united nations and their tens of thousands of ngos. that all requires money and man-power. we supply it.

we purchase and watch tvs and pay to watch movies. we support their cia/hollywood branch.

i do not mean to sound trite in all this, but some of it bears repeating in simple, no uncertain terms.

because we all give our tacit or otherwise, consent. we can just as well put energy into withdrawing it.

i do not consent to being governed. i most certainly do not consent to being iron-fist ruled by low-consciousness inbred low-lives. i want to live in a very different world from theirs so what i know to do in any given moment is to withdraw my consent, in as many forms as i have given it knowingly or not, as well as i can - from their world - and use my energy and resources to help create the world i want to live in. i do it in my mind using strong, clear wording and i do it out loud. i write it down and i remind others to do the same. i gave up my tv programming box nearly a decade ago. my microwave as well. my only phone is now a corded landline - i gave up my cell phone seven years ago. i have found that i can survive quite nicely without one. my laptop is now hardwired - no more wifi. i don't use pharmaceuticals, i do not validate in any way the medical establishment including veterinarians. i handle any illness or injuries myself. there are literally countless ways to take back the energy you have been flowing to the machine that is crushing you, and use it for yourself. they cannot exist in the light of truth, or without the energy/consent from the billions of souls on this plane. elementary.

I have no doubt that every single person on this website has seen evidence of the ripple effect. it's real. and the ripples have grown into waves. i don't think that can be denied. something is causing those waves. i am happy to report that i am a part of that cause. and so are you.

withdraw consent in as many ways as you can. be creative. we're already here anyway, we might as well do something, and it certainly couldn't hurt. and it is impossible to stop it from creating change. change begets change, freedom begets freedom, consciousness.....

the consciousness that allows you to perceive deception in the matrix truth movement also enables you to see truth and resolution in the consciousness movement.

that is my offering in this moment.

and this is totally not new-age, but - you are of the same body as source.

please know that without reservation.

best to us all -

There's a lot of good reading in above post, just needs time, time, time. Following is a post I've put on a couple of pages:

Hello friends - a gentle reminder of the group affirmation to take place this evening 7 pm Irish time (4 hours from now) or any other time you want. We'll be using Aine MacAodha's lovely affirmation - 'Plasterite/selenite the natural cleanser against chemtrail offense, emf and the decreasing of our once blue sky.

I send love, light, peace and harmony out to mother earth,

to the elementals,

trees

human helpers and

truthers world wide united in the power of intention with the aid of plasterite to radiate a cleaner sky and earth."

There's a little extra piece we can add on too thanks to Ray Watkowski :

"Sylphs,Air Elementals,We need your assistance...we love you,thanks"

And because I'm not completely bossy, please of course 'do your own thing' in whatever way you want or feel like, we will be very powerful sending our good thoughts no matter what format. If you have a piece of plasterite/organite it will be good to hold it as we affirm.

To join the group please send a request to Plasterite Affirmation Group.

Re: THE IRISH TOPIC

Tried the google translator on the Irish "bold talk" hmmm it eh...seems to ...crash it just cant handle Irish... hmm where have we heard that before... the stereotype goes, we love a drink, more than any other country in the world so we have to come up with words that match the different levels of drunk that you can be

I was absolutely ossified last night

[youtube]OvTeFDhYShE[/youtube]

Working on my Irish grammar here J, to be more you know...." integrated in the mob " so I don't stand out too much...because for folk not from Ireland...esp the non English speaking parts of Europe most words seem to come from..... outer space or something....If I practice a bit I soon may sound like a native..

one of my favorites is " gobshite" ...I also love, but never really understood, douchebaggery...it s fantastic..heard it a lot when listening to Sheridan ..never knew what it meant...he also uses "gobshite" a lot, he s allowed to you see, he s from The People s Republic of Northern Dublin not the most rosy area on the planet let s put it that way...we need to use these words a lot today you see..in the time frame we are in...you know what I mean....sure we can say we do consent to be governed by those psychopaths...but that just doesnt really cover the topic, does it.....took me a while to grab the concept but.... I think..... I got it now

TOP DEFINITION

Irish Cunt

A drink consisting of two-parts champagne and one-part bourbon. It will get you fucked.

I don't remember anything from last night after drinking Irish cunt.

by j_swag March 07, 2011 douchebaggery

The greatest word of all time, simple yet pleasing in its onomatopoeic beauty. For one to commit douchebaggery, he/she is not limited to but may include some or perhaps all of the following behaviors:

- the wearing of flat-billed baseball caps backwards
- using an enormous amount of gel to spike the hair porcupine style
- wearing polo shirts or any other type of shirt with the collar popped, a disgusting gesture that should've died in the 1980s with parachute pants
- the sideways peace sign gesture
- overdone pursing of the lips
- too many visits to the tanning salon
- pointing at oneself, holding up beer cans, or making other obscenely immature gestures in solo or group photos
- following trends for the sake of fitting in (see "goatee")
- adding "The" or the suffix "-ster" to one's name, as in "The Rickster"

See Guido or perhaps frat boy for more. Essentially, "douchebaggery" is one of those things as easily understood by definition as it is by one's demonstrations of it.

At least guys with mullets can cut their hair, but there seems to be no cure for the douchebaggery exhibited by frat boys overcompensating for their small members.

a word to describe an individual who has shown themselves to be very brainless in one way or another, thus comparing them to the cleansing product for vaginas you're such a douche... i wish i knew your existence was this pathetic when i started hanging out with u.

OhI love that one....But one is only allowed to use that when from Dublin other areas use different words....they don't want to be associated with Dublin I guess ..whaaaaa Hope you are having a good time too....oh dear...this non pc talk might upset our non existent[/i] or our [i]equally non existent big multi million dollar plaster crystal entrepreneur ship maybe have to contact the EU commission on this topic of not selling any orgonite...maybe we are a endangered minority group, you know, outcasts, second rate, like the Irish are treated maybe we can get a bonus out of that, protected minority groups or something...some government funds must be there for hopeless folk like us whaaaaaaaaaaaaahahaha

LOL...just taking the piss J....also, just mindbrowsing here, as plasterite is rather " green" you know....wink wink maybe we can get something out of it that way....promoting it that way...do I smell a marketing opportunity here ???? wink wink tongue in cheek...nod nod...jee.. we are....like.....orgonite refugees...LOL....please nwo government freaks please save us save us we are helpless , we need your authority save us ...oh control freaks save us ...from this that and the other save us ...oh...from eh...what s the con again, ah global warming no mate that phrase cannot be used anymore...it s " climate change" ah ok sorry ... and dont talk so much you create to much CO2 ...you eco terrorist....we do love trees a lot , I do , and treehugging but not in the way our masters think of it we cant do it on our own..we need those paid / bribed / political correct " experts" to figure this one out IPCC to the rescue please ...get that smile of your face ...

oooooooooooooh

our " betters" you see we need their " solutions" (for the shite they deliberately secretly created in the first place) burps...is there something smelling in here ?....British establishment yikes...god save the queen alright wow..wow wow..that Guinness did not go down too well assumingly...heheheh

Gifting trip

nah wont make a long story about it just what it is it was pleasant quick and clean and, again, believe it or not, just twenty minutes on the playground and the helicopter came over ah..clockwork eh ..yep don't ask me why , that s just how it is they usually do than you think while gifting and the branches start swinging oh my god , not again why they do that just to show who is boss that s my opinion also for intimidation but by now they should know it does not work with all folk some just don't resonate with tyranny odd...

Funny enough found some pieces I gifted previously still functional, although I do remember burying them , half way , but now they were just on the forest floor strange, but just like with those predictable helicopters you ll get used to it after a while the mystery factor so to speak some call it synchronicity call it what you want it is there there s a lot there anyway, a few bags, nothing too heavy, fifty kilos, my latest batches went in - the seaweed structures we are not here for the masses, we are not here to make big money, although some bucks wouldn't hurt either, hehe no, this is for those still standing and holding on to sanity without breaking up or giving up or going into all sorts of la la land the methods provided are real and are excellent tools for the healers who want to go further at least we keep most popcorn folk out of this place here unlike Facebook....

I do notice the fear level has decreased , on my part, during those trips there is not much left of that I am getting over that now I guess I didnt even give the bird to the helicopter, oh I am getting sloppy here LOL it just does not bother me anymore paper Tigers...

ah dear lady J , yes I did receive the presents thank you very much you should not have to do that Highly appreciated nevertheless

Well, did some thinking too winter is good for something Hopefully soon , well you know soon...we can hand over some things to new blood just a thought
But I am still rather young so..hopefully..I tick along for some time to come so in worst case I run this myself, not by will but more like a sheer lack of volunteers

Feel ok, doing fine drink my way into the Irish mob

You know J and mob, we are on our own now here more or less, as the German has stopped , all of it, it just becomes too much of a burden over time in his case as he was into sales too, thank the great spirit we are not into that to such an extent otherwise we would snap up too if you know what I mean just becomes too much so therefor I am strangely enough happy we dont do much sales although lots of folk keep pushing me to go that way there seems to be a market for it especially in these times of austerity and it will become much worse folks what they have in store for us all not too important to me, important is to keep the good things going the wisdom given to us by those who came before us it all has a deeper meaning big thank you for everything

Re: THE IRISH TOPIC

Glad you got the book Sunflower, hope it makes you smile, it seems somehow to tie in with your earlier (removed) post, synchronicity here extending to the ridiculous too. Also glad you feel you intend keeping going with gifting for some time longer. Please don't start looking for replacements for any of us older pourers, I don't intend giving up any time soon, even if I stagger a bit when I'm hauling sacks of plaster around lol. Any new blood will be most welcome of course, the more the better. Let's hope 2016 is the year of the big explosion of plasterite pouring, and the other prong of getting geo-engineering stopped. Oh well, we can but dream (and Affirm) .

yeah

thank you for your words

It is a new year and I think now sometimes what can we share as there is so much to share the question is also how deep do we have to go in this sharing of information etc as it is for sure not nice news etc

I don't want to pour too much bad news in this forum about what's going on maybe it is time to stop that in a sense that those who want to know the agenda must go look for it it ain't for , it's around the corner...if you know what I mean it's not the purpose of this forum to spend too much time and effort on that topic as most of you know it anyway so why bother the same applies to the average Joe who watches TV and well does not care at all, couldn't care less actually about the system we live in or under.

So maybe it is time to push all that hoopla aside as it is not constructive we live in a dark world and it seems to get darker, we know all that therefore we do the good work and are active on solutions we prefer to use the energy work for that, for lack of a better word. Things can become frustrating yes, that is your right to feel that way like during the climate chaos "protests" this guided hoopla

Then I see all those signs you hold over there , you know, this anti this that and the other you name it , fluoride, chemtrails, gmo, water charges, boy that gets confusing what sign to hold up today LOL

just borrow lady H's " crystal" sign, satanic Ireland, that fits the bill alright

It s all in tune with the world agenda, the "sustainability" agenda aka agenda 21 the agenda for this century to be completed and they mean business, heard yesterday electricity prices will raise 100 per cent here yep you hear it right double just like that boom there you go on the floor and more to come all to save us

also found out one of my accounts, made last week , has been blocked, nothing new there gets boring than they ask for your phone number to " sort it out" you see it s all a scam but most believe in it so , we have to live with that and dont bother too much about all that jazz Point is we have to keep the light in our hearts put on the mental breaks once in a while there is so much evil around us it takes our life spirit away almost if you know what I mean the same applies if you are somewhere without this life force energy pumping you feel it the "weight" of your surroundings, being unprotected, blasted by the radiation and the rest of it that s why it is a good thing to always have something on you, does not have to be expensive I just use some sea shells filled with the plasterite mix , that suits me well also have a little life pillow on me , in the coat that is, a combo piece, works great like a coating protecting you against what they throw at us

There are many ways of looking at this all this what we do is the glass half full or half empty but fact is these techniques , these natural methods we use, have never been used more than they were used in the past year that s a fact you know what I am saying it s never been that big and most work we dont see as there is a lot going on behind the veils as most folk , esp nowadays, prefer not to go on the internet or for sure not post things in forums and that sort of thing you see as everything today is sort of monitored we know that old news new normals again being spied upon all day long for what well they always did that even before they gave us the internet still no reason to give it all away on facebook but ...that s just my take on it hold your breath

the problem is most jokers are on facebook oh this post is gonna make me so much buddies LOL wink wink

almost like bringing up the topic of geo engineering during christmas dinner in a family gathering you can see the zombies heads turn slowly to youlike in that movie what was it Donald Sutherland invasion of the body snatchers hehehe

oh my god he or she is one of them, one of those " conspiracy nutters" oh my should we call someone

New blood well that would be a miracle but we ve had our fair share of miracles last year so why not let s aim a bit higher here there is so much more to talk about but you know what that s not so important , important is we love all those of you who do the good work that s all that matters that all that matters we share with you all the good forces in us to work on progress towards a better world and to improve ourselves in the process let us not be misguided by forces let us not be controlled and dumbed down , made fearful and all that as one could clearly feel that force present at the climate chaos meeting in Dublin like a black fog through the streets almost visible

for those who get it most folk will never get anything also to pump up the confidence of you mentioning we can all do this we all use different ways and means but we all can do this there is so much inside you most of you hardly understand some know some about it some know even more about it you are not helpless and you can do a lot and I always say once you are on that path and you know doing what has to be done you can feel alone and you sometimes might look over your shoulder overwhelmed by the forces working against you thinking please I cannot do this on my own when does the cavalry arrive ? well look mate, there is no cavalry never was never will you are the cavalry you are stronger than thousand horses if you connect to it, that what is inside all of us sleeping but there , it is present there are many ways to explore it it s often called the work of the shaman but it is achievable for all of us who really want to go there are ready for it that s when the selenite kicks in , in opening up the doors as I say that s what it does it shows you the path and I can say , over years now, all the healers I have communicated with, world wide they get it so fast it always surprises me how fast and intuitive some folk are and how slow it makes me feel in that sense as it took me a lot longer to figure all this out more than a year while people who are more spiritual, for lack of a better word, they smell it , they often can just see it , like a glow, and, like the woman I do have sessions with , once or twice a year, to straighten myself out, she literally grabbed that life force energy , the tool of light, yep again I refuse to use the word orgonite, out of my little hands so again , to come back to the topic of cavalry there is no cavalry you are the cavalry nobody is going to do anything you are going to do everything there s truth for you doing the good work not following propaganda and you have the right to be yourself and to explore yourself more closely as you hardly know yourself most of you there is , again, so much in this , the how to call it the way of the healer I dont know how to call it , I am not that fancy with words words are not needed , in the heart you know what is right and sometimes it is not needed to talk at all

'A big thank you to Jenny for gifting me these amazing pieces of plasterite first time I held i felt a surge of beautiful energy, thanks and hopefully in the new year I will begin to create some wonders to aid in the recovery of the ether xx happy 2016 to all ~'

Wishing you A happy and miraculous year too, Aine.

it was the first year that I've seen this tools of life been given away to the public during geo engineering awareness days for free and maybe that's the only way as that way cannot be stopped or come under attack , you know what I mean can't be exploited by the PTB etc it just can't once you start asking money for it, during those public rallies etc , you will enter a whole new territory and that's not where you want to be on a private note, yes you can sell it , fine, do as you will, does not matter but in the public eye
no

we love our resin brothers and sisters too you know I truly mean that, not all of them, but some of them

I do not agree with that artificial method , you know, this nasty freedom of speech thingy we got going here
yikes
I see it as a different league altogether and does not bother me but I will never promote it either natural solutions are the best solutions

Re: THE IRISH TOPIC

It is winter folks and we all feel it, at least those in the Northern Hemisphere, Europe, US, etc, dont let it break your spirit, we havent seen the sun for a while and no flowers, will come back , just hold on for a while, the dark days are already on a retreat, slowly but definetely. Don t let the bad bugs bit you

Keep the faith and keep the strength, bascially each and everyone of us have long passed the Nobel price level, way beyond that.

It is not always easy I know, it can boggle the mind realising the magnitude of a system we are up against.

You might feel a bit deflated right now, talking to the Irish clan now in particular, as we know what happened and we know where it all is going.

Dont have to spell it all out you know , you smell the wind.

Personally I have only or mainly preferred to deal with individuals , not with groups, and I prefer to work behind the scenes not on the street.

So this " awareness days" are not for me personally. I do love them but they are not for me.

It is not there are not many people aware, I think there are enough folk aware , I dont think that s the real issue, the real issue is they dont participate, they dont get active they do not go beyond the FaceBook level of thumbs up to put it that way and well we all know that writing letters or signatures and handing them over to the sell outs that we call government aka " public servants " what a laugh, is not gonna do too much. They are all on board with it , the world agenda otherwise they would not even be allowed into the positions they have.

It is not possible to deal with the system using logic as there is no logic in the system.

This crazy reality most take for granted, there is nothing in it.

We all know that, so what s the point , the point is dont let that aspect run you down.

I always call it " get off the chessboard" you dont belong there it is their game , not yours

I do my monomyth now, completely, what does that mean, it means finding my own way , connect with intuition and inner strength and for goodness sake dont step on the chessboard , they play you like a violine, upside down inside out, you cant win that game, it s rigged.

What I learned from working, dealing with the selenite is exactly what Steve the dowser of the old forum said, exactly like that is how it worked out for me a totally new look on how things really are, finding so much new stuff, unbelievable things, not outside, inside it s all inside

working with the world around you

One of the characteristics is , it is your journey , your awareness, your experiences, etc those cannot be shared with others they are personal valid and real , yes, but personal they do not belong on " facebook" it will not get you many " thumbs up" it is way beyond all that crap

What is it like it is like the story Tony shared, sitting on the porch , having a chat with Jacques and stepping in something big veils that open , call it what you want, it happens , it is real it is not magic in that sense it is real , it s just we havent been in touch with that sort of thing , most will never get in touch with that regardless what you do , it is not up to you , it is your journey for yourself , the last two years I had three or four of those experiences when it happens you know so selenite can be seen , as a helper , a wise friend, an ally , helping you to see more than you saw before

it is not for everyone

it cannot be bought or paid for, it cannot be owned or controlled it is just there for you once you are ready nobody knows when that will be

This is not just about "blue sky" you know, that's just the first chapter of a huge book, just that.

One chapter

There are many more.

Still such conversations are like talking to your TV watching neighbour and trying to tell him about the lines in the sky they look at you like you came from another planet if you even go there, trying to talk to such folk I mean, I don't do that it is not productive and won't bring you any good vibes

Once your neighbour, in a guided conversation, on your part, mentions, yes the skies are different than they used to be, etc, you can, slowly, give your point of view slowly, step by step, of what's really happening, don't overload them or they crack up in a second and will never go into such topics again.

Thanks to your silly efforts to "wake them up" you ruined them completely forever and they often can become your adversaries in the future.

Anyway, again, I have to come back to the core of the matter, one must leave the chessboard the allowed ways to counteract with what they throw at us as they expect you to do that, use the given opportunities, the allowed opposition that's what they want you to do they actually count on it you do the marches, the protest, the signatures, the jadinya bla bla bla

they don't want you to leave the game, for heavens sake, they lose control that's their worst nightmare you will become unpredictable in action and power that freaks them out for sure no joke

as long as you go the paved avenue they don't care what you do in the least as those roads are all safe and sound, completely blocked anyway that is why I love the affirmation thingy, as that's a way to look deeper in oneself to find ways there is much in that, more than one might suggest at first glance it is the road to power especially when working with the tools of light especially when these tools are strong and natural and the more you work with it, gradually, knowledge and insight will come in like training

but in a way you did not know or is not promoted by the alternative mainstream it is something wholly different, something that seldom talked about if at all.

it is not here's the money, gimme the solution, it does not work that way

Leaving the chessboard means things like stop listening to those "truth gurus" they throw in your face in the mainstream alternative media all that mainstream stuff is put out there for a purpose and it is not your benefit for sure

Types like Michael Tsarion, those types, all fake, mix good real stuff with crap, you know, planet X, 2012

"doomsday", green lizards and what have you and spin it into la la land they always do that, that's why they are allowed you see it is very easy once you understand

I don't listen to those jokers anymore and that's a big relief I can tell you they all have some sort of agenda they are not real for sure the last thing they want you to look for answers is yourself that s truly the last thing they want that s why they bombard you with that crap all phony stuff to keep you occupied distracted sort of " shopping for religions" that s what it actually is finding a belief system but it does not work because it is not supposed to work it is supposed to keep you in disarray fragmented , never putting two and two together chaising your tail

Maybe there are other methods, natural, people used , maybe they still use them , I dont know but , for me, the selenite has lots to offer and it is a endless journey of amazement So I am cool with that that s why things like facebook are so dangerous as it is not possible to think for yourself it s like a giant borg machine molding people into conformity overwhelming them with opinions and nonsense that sort of paralyze your awareness etc, completely flatten it, making it numb besides the NSA data snooping, completely on board with that hoopla they are but who cares ?
Well... I do.

people become robots on things like facebook without realising it maybe not all, but most for sure this political correctness this self policeing all the time oh I cant say that oh I cant say that maybe someone might not like it , maybe best not speak about it oh my...we dont want fuzz do we so where does that leave truth ? you know the answer to that question.

Anyway, get off the chessboard, make room for working with the tools of Light, you cant do it in five minutes, you need time and space silence and focus all that stuff a free spirit unguided by any sort of outer influence of course, without cell phone... at least when you are doing that you can turn that nasty thing off you know push the button baby.... you see, that wasnt hard you might miss an appointment with Herr Kissinger , but hey , it s worth it

It is all not so difficult but mainly because of lots of folks lifestyle it becomes difficult.

It is not difficult at all

So, focuss on the good times ahead

Funny sidenote, for some reason the energy pieces I gifted, long ago, checked them this week in the woods, etc, and they do fine strange but true unpainted, some just on the forest floor stil holding on very muddy and green but for some reason or another they are still there

Heard there is a lot of Sylph activity noticed in the Dublin area, jee , how can that be ?

Aliens ?

dont let the winterblues keep you to down now..all together and

LOL

yes we do hug eachother that s all there really is you know that s all we really have along with pandora s box of course you are stronger than you think they want you to be fearful, small, obedient and dont think too much but we wont fall for those tricks take a step back , leave the checkered floor

Re: THE IRISH TOPIC

As I keep working on the legacy of orgonite plus, the Josh Mob, came to me as an excellent idea to , at least, make a backup website , a more static one, although the public can share comments there too, on Wordpress.

Sort of blog thing, as it has happened before, multiple times, this little gold nugget here was almost floating belly up...

That would be too much....and as there are no other affiliate sites, for some reason dealing with the natural energy topic seems to scare the muppets too much , whatever, it cannot be that one push of some button somewhere, we never really know where it comes from but sooner or later it usually happens this whole thing is history.

Right now in the process of copying the Irish topic posts to the new site.

Ten pages done, stil a lot to to

I will not copy all , as lots of things are already covered to save for the future.

Important.

'Like' 😊 It's great how information is still passing to and from, learning curves, all there is. It's wonderful to be in the middle of it.
A follow up comment to Eric's note from my colleague M: 'Eric – the counterfrequency intent – through the lens of Homeopathic method, you'd want to apply to all situations. Blanket invoking an oppositional duality w sticker for me, at least, I'd be curious to hear your view.
One of the issues with the Warrior Matrix culture of Orgonite gifters is all the m hand is healing, not war.' Comment from Eric: I havnt ran into an issue yet, but with the selenite, always f pretty much the selenite telling you how it wants its body made 😊
My comment: F..k the Geo-Engineering B.st..ds 🤔🤔

Plasterite

That is true, the main focus is love.
As simple and pure as that.
But, as we are humans, other emotions, motives, etc are always involved for the go There are those who turn the other cheek and put their heads in the sand when your head is in the sand your back part stick up to be kicked even more... and there are those who follow the eye for an eye method.
The best thing to do is to stay in balance... the white and black wolf story... again...

Re: THE IRISH TOPIC

You're full of ideas Sunflower, Will that mean double the work, we're supposed to be easing off for the winter months surely?

But probably really good to have the information available in more than one location.

I'm proud to attach Lady Murielle's latest creation, she's been promising a 'rainbow' coloured pyramid to a friend of hers for ages, and here it is, a true resin and plasterite combo.

I think a word to describe me may be 'forward' i.e. pushy - I listened to the Sean Maguire Show 'Out of the Box' on Peoples Internet Radio last evening, where he had a really long interesting chat with Max Bliss. Near the end Sean brought up the subject of organite, and Max knew a lot about it. Of course Ms.Cheeky here contacts Sean on FB and posts about Plasterite.

He takes an interest and I reminded him we'd met on O'Connell Bridge a couple of months ago, at Ciaran's anti-geoengineering awareness day.

He'd given me his card and recited one of his poems for me.

We talked then mostly about fluoridation.

This afternoon he said he'd tried before to get groups making organite in Ireland some time ago, but found there was no interest, so was delighted to hear about our interest in it.

So..... he's asked me to chat with him on one of his programmes about Plasterite and anything else I want to discuss - I'll be happy to bring fluoridation into it if the opportunity arises.

He seems like a good interviewer, with Max anyhow the conversation flowed along nicely.

Janey Mac what have I let myself in for?

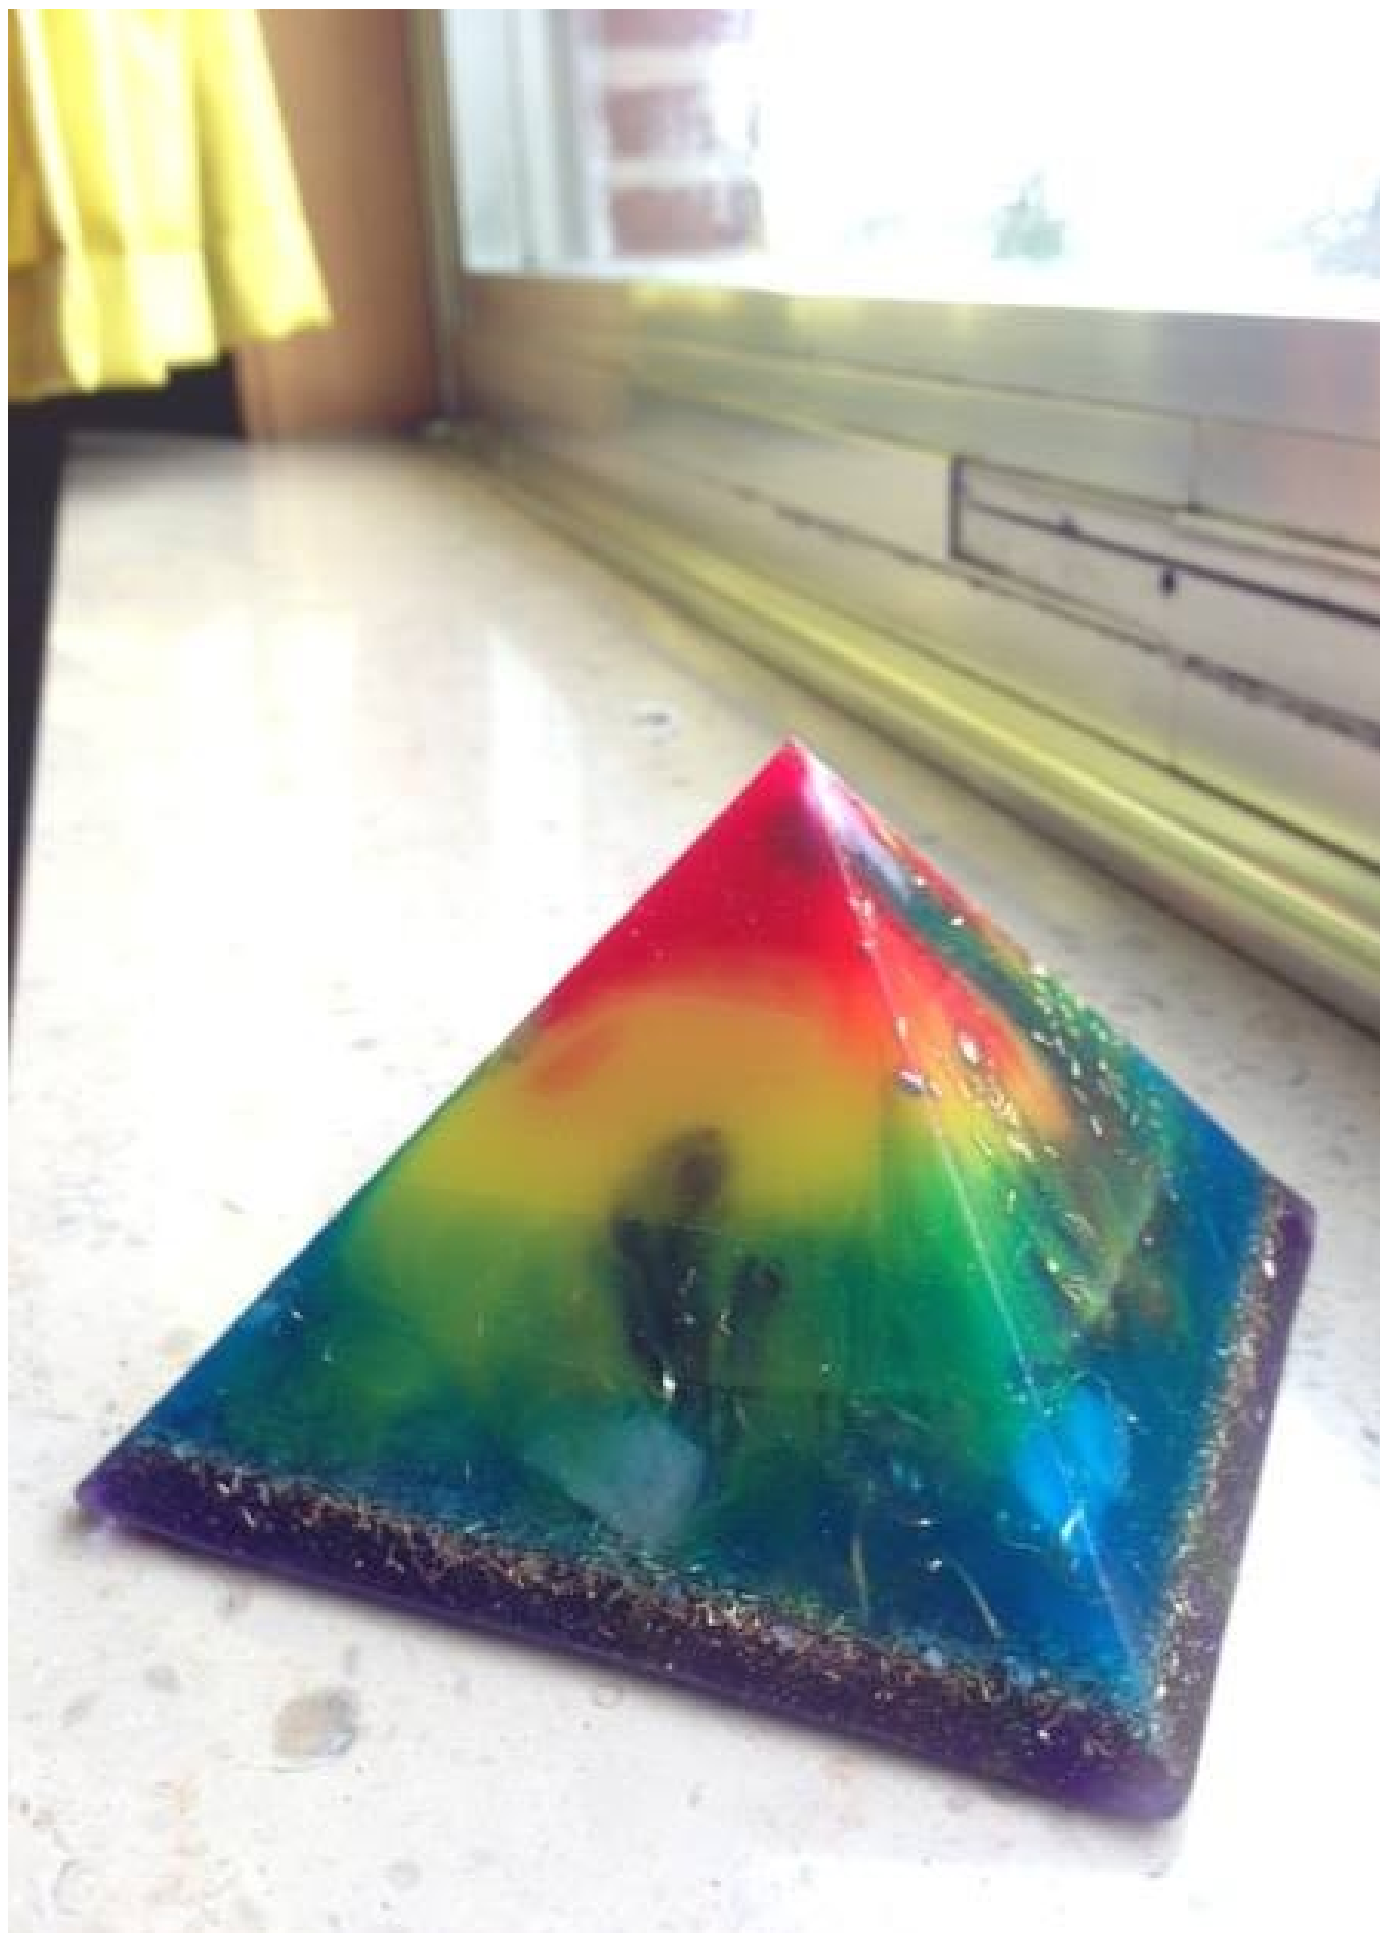

I must be mad lol

Maybe you'd like to chat too Sunflower? You could do the esoteric side of it.

Re: THE IRISH TOPIC

Ha, now that s something

Another fabulous post , another thousand Jenn's and Tony s and we could propel this baby into something else hahaha

Doing some energy sensing here, for lack of a better word, putting it all together and I am still growing in this you know, this natural energy thing, maybe it works out for different people in different ways but, ah, it s like a big library of Life itself, some learn from it a lot and some use it to lighten up the stove, if you know what I mean, still I am sure those who even look into it and start working with it, living with it, will have successes one way or another that cannot be avoided, but you are right, there is a lack of interest generally, not just into this fabulous topic but in most topics in life that really matter.

That s just how it is.

Selenite opens perceptions in many ways and what you see is not always what you expected but it is wonderful nevertheless as it has that bizarre habit of truth , it shows you how things are, many things in many ways it is the ultimate healing tool , lots of healers are crazy about it, they also use selenite wands, etc, because this stuff truly works and gets the job done.

It is really bizarre stuff and Josh said it s not for the fainthearted, therefor it is maybe a must be , to keep it in the hands of the few who want to work with it

Look at it as an onion, so many layers and more, but it is not for the average Joe, that s a fact, it just is not.

Fluoride hmm ah well you know my stance on those topics and the way they are addressed in the system you know it s not for me but unlike most other forums who have a terrible habit of shafting individuals, we dont do that here unless they ask for it

hahaha

it s good work but I dont believe in it, c est ca

I dont believe it is good to put rat poison in water, somehow that does not make sense to me it might make good sense to the psychopathic control factor that runs the planet but that s another story talking about it seems a waste of energy and time but , silly enough, and that s the hard part, it must be done like the sign someone held up a while ago, this " I cannot believe we still have to protest this crap" sign that was a good one, shows it all doesn't it that's how I see it

A lot of rope, trees and funerals are not going to solve the core of the problem we face, always have faced throughout human history

Would not achieve anything, we will be history too and the next day a new bunch is "voted" in and the same puppet show runs again like nothing really happened, what I am trying to say, we cannot face the problems surrounding us with the same level of awareness or playing by their rules

the chessboard

It's a difficult topic, comes from deep within, it's personal if you are not in the game you have to find your own way and I prefer to find my own way as the system does not offer us solutions or a fair chance that will never happen

totally rigged from top to bottom that's why I am so happy no money is attached to these healing methods, energy methods, whatever you want to call it it's a dog eat dog system and its roots go deep and we see the effect of the programming on the public there is no salvation to be found there

There is no one way solves it all solution in this, therefore I like what you are doing as it serves a purpose to bring in the ones that are aware and want to put their energy to good use in that sense that's fine

in a way it is a multilevel attack on the system that's really crushing us now and it will get worse we have not seen too much of it yet it's just an agenda

it's no "conspiracy" anyone with a brain and some attention span can figure this out it's all in the books now that's how bold our owners are but folk, most of them, are still in their level of religion, do you believe this that or the other believe what has that to do with it they are still glued to their mainstream, TV, cellphones and the rest of the Alice in Wonderland fairy tale but honestly I am truly no longer interested, if I ever was, in that mumbo jumbo the allowed parades

Since I left the chessboard I feel very good no anxiety

not as it once was

it's no longer there it is the real thing

it is not promoted and you won't hear much about it, if at all.

It is not this that or the other, it's not the authorized "new age jadija" it's got nothing to do with that we have to keep in mind we have to run this power horse by ourselves now, lady J there is no backup here there never was there were only a few good men and women that made this happen and that s the end of it no Nobel prizes or Oscars here sorry , it s the real world hehehe the real rewards will always come to the searcher of truth even if he is that last one standing he knows he is doing the right thing it s always better than selling out or submission and that bollocks they always train us that way , giving us fake viewpoints, it s either this or that dont think for yourself you might come up with thousand new viewpoints that are not in the script , that s dangerous

Maybe dont bother so much of what " other people " are doing as I learned not much from what the public is doing anyway anytime look inside as that s the only place in life you will find real truth in life, ever esp when working with these techniques to stimulate that to a new height.

There are a million " truth gurus" out there to catch you and you know Those big name, that fill up the ether.
No salvation there either but big bugs are to be made and this control thing again

Well it is winter and cant do much else so to speak I could but maybe I dont want to , just taking it easy for the time being as it has been a busy years lots of work has been done and now it all has to sink in a bit and be analyzed Just having you around is the biggest reward ever doing what you do What I was trying to say as I tend to digress a lot the big players are not longer in action as they have done enough, way more than enough cleared the path to the jungle of perception and have shown us the road to go so we go that road and it is a good one even if we dont know exactly what will come of it , whatever it is, it is good we know that by now but it is not a script or something that s been done before , maybe it has been done on a personal level, sure it has, but it is not something usually talked about etc
you know what I mean

There are very few real people in these movements J very few can almost count them on one hand more or less Nice to hear of Max hmm the esoteric side of it

....

topic	"Exoteric"
Preferred state of consciousness	Normal waking consciousness Transformation of personality	No (ego-centred)
Means of knowledge	Reason (secular), Belief (religious)
Authority	External (Bible, Church, Science, etc)
Philosophy or teachings	Narrow; only one authority (Bible, Scientific method, etc), everything outside that Metaphysical Position	Simplistic (Materialism, Dualism, or Holism)
Concept of Absolute Reality	External God (Dualism): i.e. God is mainly considered as a separate, external being or Space-Time-Energy (Materialism) - the "unified field theory" or Theory of Everything such holy grail of physics

I dont know

As this is a personal journey , a wonderful one I might add, really amazing it is personal

it is my song

not somebody else s song

Just live with the selenite and grow into it takes a while and dont push it , it will all work out , it is very simple and for some reason most dont understand as we are so detached from anything real or natural in our lives.

but people dont want that the learning curve, this making it happen by themselves, they dont like that they dont like to step into the unknown, working with real energies, real power, you see they want a fixed belief system , someone telling them what to do and than often things go not the way they are supposed to go that was also a big bonus of the old forum , all those people were like that , individuals doing their own ride that is very uncommon

it was not facebook Jenn that s a muppet show it was the real thing for a chance for once

I think a person must either have a higher sort of awareness or possess a very strong will to deal with this

I had the latter one people must invest in this much deeper and thorough, you know it is real work

all this stuff

but folk dont know how to do there is no quick fix anyhow I refuse to let the system get a hold on my energy that s the core of it escaping the presented solutions they offer as we know how those turn out

You are a teaser

dont worry about this " group thing" this is not a group thing this is the real thing the real thing is not meant for groups it is meant for the person itself

Nice piece of orgonite there, nice combo as they say also economical as one needs only little resin, hmm do I smell marketing solutions hint..hint...putting out plasterite in a resin jacket with the typical bling bling the public likes so much there a catch for you wont cost too much to make those ...

it s kind of weird is it not but it is a compromise and not a bad one it s worthwhile contemplating about I think if one wants to go into sales ten of those pyramids on a market wont last a day sold out in a day the real stuff with a resin sugar coating , why not J , why not ?

she is amazingly creative

Re: THE IRISH TOPIC

I think a word to describe me may be 'forward' i.e. pushy - I listened to the Sean Maguire Show 'Out of the Box' on Peoples Internet Radio last evening, where he had a really long interesting chat with Max Bliss. Near the end Sean brought up the subject of organite, and Max knew a lot about it. Of course Ms.Cheeky here contacts Sean on FB and posts about Plasterite

Max Bliss is an activist and an independent researcher.

"An ordinary man, with his eyes and mind open in extraordinary times"

Max has presented at various Chemtrail conferences and participated in high level Climate Engineering and Climate Change Conferences. Max researches daily and uses social media to expose the global agenda for one world government through the fraudulent threat of the man-made Anthropogenic Global Warming agenda and many other issues exposing the despotic New World Order.

This week's OUT OF THE BAG was for me and I hope YOU....A CRACKER!

My first guest was Max Bliss who has been blazing a TRAIL....quite literally! He is a hard worker with a deep understanding of the insanity of weather manipulation and in particular CHEMTRAILS!

The two hours flew and Max is a mine of information on the subject, that links in with many other theories of the psychopathic elite! I will let you listen as words are very limiting when trying to explain how much I know of him to date.

Please check out Max's website here: <http://the-real-institute.com/> and click on the picture above to join him on FACEBOOK!

THANK YOU Max! I think we could have spoken for many more hours and I wish to extend this to any future shows you wish to be on.

Listening to it , it is interesting for those interested in ancient non functional highly promoted "authorized" solutions LOL whoops ,that just rolled off my tongue, oh darn, so politically incorrect of me. oh god do we really have to go through that resin crap again and again how often have we heard the really big names in life force energy land heard saying there is no match for plasterite but money talks so we wont hear of it also a serious lack of self determination can be noted always just doing what others are doing barking the allowed bark always neat inside the penn never advancing never thinking sheep no more eh ?

not a beep on plasterite there, jee, shocker

Re: THE IRISH TOPIC

Haha Sunflower well found, and yes it's 'Out of the Bag' It's hardly surprising that there was no mention of Plasterite, so now is an opportunity to let people know about it. I've mixed feelings about this, it would be much easier just to keep pouring and say nothing, but Ireland is a relatively large country for just a few people to cover. Though my intention for the New Year is to pour a bag of plaster one weekend and gift around a town the next weekend. Not sure if any of my buddies will be very enthusiastic about that idea. Let's see how it goes, as you know about 30 people here have been shown how to make it over the summer, and maybe they will be inspired to make more when the weather gets better.

There was a nice chit-chat after I posted a picture of a little display in our local Beauty Salon, and mentioned that the owner said a lot of people ask about it.

Maurice Dodd I cant put my finger on it but we made some cones..got some of juliet etc..and kept them in the car /sitting room..but with two young kids we found things calmed down straight away..the kids still torment each other but its more good natured..?my missus who is skeptical commented on it..i just keep saying" .that will be the cones"

Jenny Mortell That's supposed to be the idea Maurice, to create positive Life Force Energy and create a pleasant atmosphere. Great when the effects are noticed. We hear and read lots of reports of great unexpected results, for example depressed people getting a boost or agitated people calming down. That's why we love it so much. When are you going to gift around Greystones Maurice Dodd? Or maybe you did already?

Maurice: I have gifted Jenny..and i will make some more and gift them..our cones are on fire place and windowsill..when other parents ask "what are they" when i explain about selinte they dont scoff..they are genuinely interested..and open.. a bit..anything that quiets down kids will always be interesting to parents...in our house we struggle..we dont have a lot of modern stuff..we dont have the money to be honest..but we have a sense of "calm" in our living room....the two kids are at school or creche..most of the time..but when they are at home they are CONSTANTLY drawing hearts for me and her..or happy pictures..of famjly and love..they kill each other but all good natureally ..maybe and perhaps it would be like that anyway..but im the type of person who picks up on negative energy..ive noticed theres none in our house lately..and people seem to love being here..(Just my two cents)

Jenny Mortell What a lovely post thank you Maurice Dodd - I should print it out and frame it.

Juliet Kelly That's great Maurice another friend who got some off me, she has two large cones on her hearth said the same thing, her kids were better, one even got a job, she was thrilled, then her sister in law got some to. All I here are good stories. Jenny I love the colour of those you've shown, such a calming colour

Maurice Dodd I forgot to mention we were generously gifted our cones and hearts from Juliet Kelly..small hearts are in our car and in kids bedrooms cones and sprial in liviing room..

Brigid Gallen And they look beautiful as well as helping.

Oh it will quiet down kids, not just kids , older kids like us too by the way it is natural energy , it balances all around us harmonises that s what it does and much more.

in the process of reading here and no, the book you donated to make me survive the winter is not " too light" for me, it is just perfect for me, flashy , original, has a typical style, very fast book very lively yeah cool appreciated

Also went into some topics , like the channel Max has, he hangs out with the creme de la creme of real people even saw dr Nick Begich there And J if you ever get the chance explain to Michael what Sylphs are there are lots over LA I see someone is pumping something there life force energy is present in some areas that s cute to see

lots of good stuff there

Also a link to a pdf with the usual propaganda crap , this time from Stanford Un.

http://pesd.fsi.stanford.edu/.../defau.../files/new_currency.pdf how bad we all are and produce CO2 jadijadija....yawn... and how they "must" bring in the big scam, the carbon credit scheme what a jokers they really laugh at us they are gonna hit us with that nonsense endlessly now gradually very hard to find sites like that , it s most propaganda now CO2 worship totally ignoring the causes etc http://pesd.fsi.stanford.edu/sites/default/files/new_currency.pdf

A New Currency

Climate Change and Carbon Credits

A new currency is emerging in world markets. Unlike the dollars, euros and yen that trade for tangible goods and human services, this new money exchanges for pollution—particularly emissions of carbon dioxide, which are caused by burning fossil fuels and are the leading cause of global climate change. Carbon credits, as they are called, are poised to transform the world energy system and thus the world economy.

But it is not easy. As the Europeans have shown with their successful launch of the euro, new monetary systems require sophisticated and strong institutions. Creating a new currency for global trade is doubly difficult. Not only are global institutions much weaker than national courts and treasuries, but international cooperation is vulnerable to defection. Rarely do all major nations move in lockstep, but the creation of a new global currency implies the need for coordination on a scale that is unprecedented in the history of international environmental law.

How this currency evolves and its implications for the world economy depend on decisions that are being made today and in the next few years. Those who want this system to work—and if it does, the benefits to the atmosphere and to the world economy could be enormous—must look to the right lessons from history. Yet the wrong histories have served to inspire most of the international diplomacy in this area. Governments have sought grand global treaties, such as the Kyoto Protocol, yet in history the most demanding and effective treaties and strongest currencies have emerged “bottom up” from the initial efforts of a committed few.

Friends.... often we feel frustrated about how we can expose the climate engineering programs involving jet trails... perhaps we should prove that the trails are not always contrails..?

Can anyone suggest how we can create a data base system to archive our photos along with historical atmospheric soundings and satellite data to create the data sets we need...?

I had an interesting meeting with 'Sean' the interviewer on the video yesterday, trying to fuel his interest in Plasterite, he went off with some pieces, information sheets and sounding very enthusiastic about getting pouring, enrolling his wife (who is a ceramacist) to make moulds, (maybe they will get the angles and frequencies right lol) and children to paint pieces.
